Source and exact outcome

Ask a question about the past. From BUILD Weekly - Spring!B44/C44. Thursday 4 February 2027, P3. Theme: Resilience & Change. Formative; Week 6 is assessing under the owner brief.

Picture key

Model replies and limits

Question	Honest reply
Who sewed the strap?	We do not know who.
What happened to the strap?	The strap tore.
When was the strap sewn?	After it tore. The date is not given.
Where was the bag kept?	We do not know where.
Why was the box painted?	We do not know why.
How was the strap fixed?	Someone sewed it.

Private hinge

“What happened to the strap?” asks for a reply; “The strap tore” tells. Reteach by asking quietly and waiting. Parallel check: “Who sewed the strap?” asks; “The strap was sewn” tells. Do not insist on a spoken question or a question mark in a pupil’s writing.

Other valid questions

Accept any pupil-chosen question about these invented objects before now. For example, “What was on the box?” can use the paint clue. For missing details say “We do not know from these clues.” A possible reason is a guess, not a proven fact. The aim is asking, not recalling every answer.

Record only what happened

Code	Own question and asking mode	Actual help and reply
Pupil number: ____	_____	_____
Pupil number: ____	_____	_____
Pupil number: ____	_____	_____
Pupil number: ____	_____	_____

Use the fourth pupil-number field only if a fourth pupil attends. Leave absent pupils blank. Record stem and detail choices separately from the act of asking. Copying a supplied model alone is not sufficient evidence of an own question.

Scaffolds and scribing

All tasks keep bank, starter and visible model. The pupil chooses the idea; adult may support grammar, record exact choices and read back for keep/change. A directed scribe may read the pupil-confirmed question to a listener with the pupil present. Record adult contribution and mode; do not record independent speech if scribed. No public questioning, cold calling or required reading aloud.

Aspire

Add a different stem or sort a reply as known/not known from the source. Words: clue, know, not sure. Starter: We know __. Model: We know the strap tore. The story tells us. Answers about who, where, exact dates and motives are absent. A good question may stay unanswered.

Feedback and evidence

Use HUM-BUILD-S1-W05-E1. Offer authentic questions to the Communication portfolio. Actual audience reply, one NS and the pupil’s own response precede R. Actual banking precedes E. [AWARD] / [QUAL] checks remain separate; no qualification completion inferred.
