How can reasons help people make an ethical decision?

Today I can… ☐ explain a decision with a relevant fact and reason, then recognise a competing concern.

RE learns about ethics and worldviews; this activity is not worship. Reflection is optional and never worship.

STAFF ANSWERS

Arrival · Supported

1. A choice about what to do.
2. Relevant evidence, such as a record or an observed fact.
3. Their circumstances or access needs may differ; do not infer any particular personal need.
4. A relevant fact, a reason and attention to people affected.

Arrival · Standard

1. A decision names the chosen action; a reason explains why that action is justified.
2. It supplies information that can be checked against the claim; a guess alone has no identified support.
3. People have different needs and roles, so the same action can help one person and inconvenience another.
4. Explain a relevant principle and likely effects using case facts; acknowledge another concern.

Arrival · Stretch

1. Example: put a box low; because a fall could hurt someone; a possible result is less risk from falling. Credit an equivalent distinction.
2. An accurate fact may still not bear on the choice. The weight of a box matters to placing it safely; its decorative label may not.
3. Identical treatment can leave an access barrier in place. Fairness needs reasons about relevant needs and effects, not sameness alone.
4. Its evidence, principle and trade-off, plus missing information or a condition that could change the decision.

Exit · Supported

1. Either the earlier booking, earlier deadline or equal ten-minute need is relevant.
2. Credit a safe feasible order with an explained reason, such as deadline first with agreement, or booking first if both deadlines can be met.

Exit · Standard

1. A booking supports keeping a commitment; the sooner deadline supports considering a changed order. Link fact to option.

2. Credit a justified order with the other group's concern acknowledged; do not insist on one answer.

Exit · Stretch

1. Weigh both commitment and urgency with ten-minute use; a reasoned conditional judgement is acceptable.

2. A justification connects relevant facts and a principle to consequences for both parties, rather than stating preference alone.

Starter

Answer (adult): The concern that someone could be hurt gives a reason about consequences and safety. Merely saying where the box went is the decision, not the reason.

We Do

Answer (adult): The group has a booking and would be disrupted; the visitor needs a quiet place. Keeping the booking respects an agreement but may delay access. A consensual short move or timed sharing may balance needs, but needs agreement and timing information. Ask how long each task takes or whether an agreed move is workable. Credit justified alternatives; do not assume the group must give up its space.

You do routes

Starter: The concern that someone could be hurt gives a reason about consequences and safety. Merely saying where the box went is the decision, not the reason.

We Do shared check: The group has a booking and would be disrupted; the visitor needs a quiet place. Keeping the booking respects an agreement but may delay access. A consensual short move or timed sharing may balance needs, but needs agreement and timing information. Ask how long each task takes or whether an agreed move is workable. Credit justified alternatives; do not assume the group must give up its space.

You Do common criteria: relevant source detail; an explained link to the weekly outcome; accurate terminology; a precise qualification or ethical check; pupil-owned response and review. Independent, Supported and Choice test the same core thinking. Choice requires the pupil's own word, phrase or reason. Record actual support; an adult-selected answer is not pupil evidence.

Starter: TA action — Read the single question once and allow private thinking. Avoid — Do not provide the response or turn this into a second retrieval grid. Feedback script — "Tell or show me the reason for your choice."

You Do staff guidance: Credit any feasible, respectful decision grounded in E3, with a relevant E1 care principle or E2 reason/empathy/consequence approach, an explained trade-off and a real information gap. Do not reward a worldview label without reasoning or require the pupil to adopt a belief.
