Card 1 Model and guided choices

All cases are invented. No real posts, accounts or personal stories are needed. Use words, pointing, typing or an aid. A scribe can record your words.

Two starter choices

Choose keep routine details private or share them widely. Or explain why sharing less may help.

Story A

A young person drafts a photo of a card model. A note in the back shows their routine. Another learner is in the photo. The young person has not asked to share it.

Visible model

The learner can remove the routine details and not post the other learner without asking. A private setting can limit who sees a post, but people may copy it. Kind words can stay about the card model. If a reply causes concern, they can stop replying and ask a trusted adult in private for help to report or block it.

Two guided choices

Match remove routine details to a privacy step. Or improve Private means no one can copy it.

Starter

Words: private, share

Start: The learner could ... .

Model: Keep routine details private.

Model A

Words: consent, copy

Start: Before posting ... .

Model: Remove routine details and ask for consent.

Private hinge

Words: settings, copies

Start: I choose ... because ... .

Model: B keeps details private. Copies may still be made.

Card 2 Privacy and reply map

Story B

A young person wants to share a photo of a card tower. Another learner is in the photo and has not agreed. An unkind reply appears in the draft group chat. No unkind words are shown.

Your choice

Make a map or list in your book, or use Type instead. Follow the shared checks. You may switch to advice note C.

Shared success checks

Spot a privacy risk. Explain that online posts can be copied and leave a trace. Give a kind, safer step with a reason. Say how to get help.

Task B

Words: consent, kind

Start: They could ... .

Model: Do not post another learner without consent.

Visible model from A

Remove routine details and ask before posting another learner. Private settings do not stop all copies. Kind words can stay about the work. Stop and ask an adult if a reply causes concern.

Think about B

What needs consent? What might be copied? What would be kind? What could the learner do and who could help? No one has to show a personal post.

Use a trusted adult or school staff in private. Pass and a supported pause are valid.

Card 3 Advice note

Story C

A young person drafts a group note. It shows details of their routine. A second draft reply is unkind. No unkind words are shown. They want a safer way to join in.

Your choice

Write a short note to the invented learner in your book, or use Type instead. Follow the same checks. You may switch to map B.

Shared success checks

Spot a privacy risk. Explain that online posts can be copied and leave a trace. Give a kind, safer step with a reason. Say how to get help.

Task C

Words: footprint, help

Start: A safer note ... .

Model: Leave routine details out and ask an adult if concerned.

Visible model from A

Remove routine details and ask before posting another learner. Private settings do not stop all copies. Kind words can stay about the work. Stop and ask an adult if a reply causes concern.

Think about C

Which detail can stay private? How can a copy add to a footprint? What kind words could be used instead? How could an adult help? Do not use a real event.

You can plan in any language. Your usual aids stay. A scribe reads back quietly so you can correct it.

Card 4 Review exit and help

Two review choices

Check your work with the shared checks. Or improve Just delete it and it is gone. Give one reason. Use one next step and keep your reply.

Review

Words: reason, check

Start: My next step ... .

Model: Add why copies may remain.

Two exit choices

Explain a safer step in a story. Or correct Private means safe to share anything.

Exit

Words: stop, tell

Start: They can ask ... .

Model: Tell a trusted adult for report help.

Help in private

Ask a trusted adult or school staff in private. Point to HELP, write a request or say Can we talk in private. If one adult is busy or help is not enough, use the route to another. Staff can help use report and block tools. A suitable helpline is another type of support; staff can help find the right route. No personal account is needed in this lesson.

Pause card

I would like to use my agreed pause.
Show this card or use your usual signal. Staff will support the agreed supervised route. No public reason is needed. You can return with support, use a calm task or catch up in private. Do not leave alone.

Safe steps

Stop engaging with a reply that causes concern. Do not join in or send it on. Ask a trusted adult for help with report or block tools. Keep asking through the school route if help is not enough.

My private online safety pledge

This page stays with you. Do not add your name, account details or private events. You do not have to show or explain it.

Choose a small step you can use. Or write for the invented learner, leave blank or pass. A pledge is a plan to try, not a promise that nothing can go wrong.

One step I can try

I will _____

If something goes wrong

I can ask _____

for help with _____

Ideas to choose from

Check private details before sharing. Ask for consent. Use kind words. Stop and ask for help if something causes concern.

A fictional model

The story learner could write: I will leave routine details out of posts. If a reply causes concern, I can ask school staff in private for help with report tools.

Help is still valid if a plan is hard to use or something has already happened. You will not have to share a private story in this lesson.
