Staff answers and teaching notes

Outcome and boundaries

Identify who helps me through change. All class prompts, sorting and explanation use made-up examples and the invented class-routine scene. No learner has to describe a real change, relationship or worry. Choose a helper role and match a kind of help by speaking, pointing, usual communication aid, drawing or faithful scribe/readback. A pass/observer option is valid; record learning not observed rather than failure. Do not use or collect the private card as evidence.

Circle of support

A circle of support is a group of people who can help. Use adults you know and trust. The same kind of help can come from more than one person. These are examples. A role does not mean you must trust that person. Use adults the pupil knows and trusts, including a familiar community role where appropriate. Do not instruct pupils to approach an unfamiliar adult alone. Use agreed home/school routes for help. A role title is a possible starting point, not a guarantee of safe support. No pupil has to endorse any adult or fill all three areas. If an adult is busy or the first response does not help, support asking another trusted adult.

Area	Role types	Example help
At home	Parent or carer	Help get kit ready.
At school	Teacher, Teaching assistant	Show a new class step.
In the community	Club leader	Show a new club step.

Sort answers

These are sample fits, not fixed job limits. Accept any safe match with a sensible context or explanation. For the school story a teacher or teaching assistant is a clear fit. A parent/carer may help get kit ready; a familiar club leader is a separate community example, not required in the classroom story.

Parent or carer: Help get kit ready at home.

Teacher: Show the new class steps.

Teaching assistant: Try the first class step with the pupil.

Club leader: Show the steps for a new club task.

What to accept

A teacher and teaching assistant can both explain or show class steps. Accept a safe alternative with a plausible context. Ask a short story-only question if the link is unclear. Do not mark job stereotypes as fixed rules or require a community role in the classroom scene.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale

Checks and chosen help

Invented scene and model

A pupil has a new start to class. First they put their book on the table. Then they look at the first task. They are not sure what comes next. The pupil could ask a teaching assistant to show the next step.

Worked example and fade

First show the helper and kind of help. Then leave the helper choice to the pupil while the bank, starter and visible model remain. Next ask the pupil to choose how that adult could help.

Model check

The pupil selects a helper and the relevant kind of help. An exact point or selection is valid. Re-model if the link is unclear. A pass remains unobserved, not a wrong answer. Do not substitute a real personal change.

Main hinge

The pupil needs the new class steps. Which help fits? Correct A: Ask a teacher to show the steps. Check privately using the invented scene. Accept usual pointing/words/aid and other sensible safe role/help combinations. If A or a suitable alternative with a clear fit, proceed. If B, unclear or no response, re-model role plus relevant help, reduce to two choices and use parallel check. A pass is not evidence of misunderstanding.

Parallel hinge

The pupil needs to try the first class step. Which help fits? Correct B: Ask a teaching assistant to try the first step with them. Recheck privately with normal aids and usual mode.

Independence and access

Normal word bank, sentence starter, visible model, role/help cards and usual aids stay on all routes. Independent means the learner chooses a suitable helper role and kind of help for the invented change after a general task cue, without adult next-step content prompts. A faithful scribe/voicing of the learner's exact choice is access, not an adult-generated answer. Record mode and prompts precisely. The objective is identification, not independent spoken performance or real-life help-seeking.

Observation states

Chose role and relevant help without adult next-step content prompts; Chose role and help with adult content prompts; Learning not observed this time. Record choices, mode, aids and all content prompts. A scribe/TA voicing exact selected words is access; an adult-generated choice is supported teaching.

Misconceptions

Each role can give only one kind of help. Cards are examples. More than one adult can listen, explain or show a step. Accept sensible safe matches for the context.

A role title means the pupil must trust that adult or fill every part of the circle. Use a trusted adult and usual safe routes. No learner must endorse an adult or show support in all three areas. Any space can stay blank; support privately, never press.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale

Scaffolds and private support

Story starter. Bank: pupil, new, step, help. Start: The pupil could ask ... . Visible model: The pupil could ask a teacher.

Model check. Bank: adult, role, show, step. Start: They could help by ... . Visible model: A teaching assistant could show the next step.

Guided sort. Bank: home, school, club, help. Start: This role could ... . Visible model: A parent or carer could help get kit ready.

Private hinge. Bank: role, help, next, adult. Start: The pupil could choose ... . Visible model: The pupil could choose a teacher to show the steps.

Choose and plan. Bank: teacher, helper, show, try. Start: They could ask ... to ... . Visible model: They could ask a teaching assistant to show the next step.

Story choice and private card. Bank: role, help, blank, private. Start: In the story, ... could help by ... . Visible model: In the story, a teacher could help by showing the steps.

Feedback and exit. Bank: busy, next, help, adult. Start: Another helper could be ... . Visible model: Another helper could be a teaching assistant.

Access

All routes keep banks, starters, models and normal aids. Teach a short match explicitly; reduce to two choices if needed. Give processing time and flexible grouping. Do not require speech or eye contact. Use agreed sensory/physical access and quiet resets. Plan in any language. Observer/pass and supported return remain.

Private card and safeguarding

If a pupil cannot identify a trusted adult or support in any area, support them privately and do not press them. Offer a familiar school role and help make contact through the school route; accept any blank space, a blank card or pass. Any disclosure goes to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. Listen calmly, reassure, do not probe or promise secrecy. Follow urgent school procedures where needed. Do not write disclosure details in this pack, the private card, a book task or shared learning evidence. Do not read private cards aloud, collect or photograph them for assessment. Staff may support completion only with pupil agreement; the pupil keeps the card.

Evidence and marking

Keep only fictional role/help choices, relevant alternatives, access/prompts, one NS and the pupil’s reply. VF verbal feedback; WS worked with support; I independent; NS next step in green; // self-edit; ? read this back to me; E actual evidence banked; R responded. R only when Voice and Audience are present, one NS is set and the pupil responds in the same colour, on the same page or usual mode. Offer to the Communication portfolio; staff confirm mapping.

Delivery scope

40 minutes in 12/13/15-minute chunks including two one-minute resets. Wednesday 3 February 2027 P1, Year A; three to four learners. Week 5 formative; Week 6 assessing. Owner brief supplies row 68 and outcome; workbook not reopened. Only Week 5 authored.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale