Staff answers and response guide

Kind and respectful relationships

These are teaching guides. Record the learner's actual response and support. Every card describes a fictional young person and generic roles. Never invite personal comparisons.

Card key

Card	Judgement	Possible action
A	Caring and respectful.	The teen accepts no and can find another pencil.
B	Unkind.	The young person can ask an adult for help. The peer should stop laughing at them.
C	Pressuring.	The young person can give space or seek adult help. They do not have to join.
D	Caring and respectful.	Allow time and listen to the reply without speaking for the person.
E	Pressuring and unkind.	The young person can seek adult help. Joining should not depend on giving up the snack.
F	Unkind.	The peer should stop. The young person can seek adult support without arguing back.

Model and hinge

A peer says no to lending a pen. The other teen keeps asking. This puts pressure on the peer. The peer can move away if it is safe. They can ask a trusted adult for help. They do not have to give in.

B offers help without requiring the young person to give in. A refusal does not need repeated defence. Saying stop is an option if safe, not a condition for getting help. The young person is not responsible for changing the peer's behaviour. Reteach by comparing A, where no is respected, with C, where the pressure continues.

Individual evidence key

Keep the actual sorting choices for at least three cards covering caring, unkind and pressuring behaviour. Keep one boundary or help response with a reason linked to C or E. Record the response mode, prompts and changes. A category label alone does not show the next step. A copied model is not individual evidence.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale

Feedback and next teaching

Practical check

A, B and C provide the core contrast. D reinforces accessible caring behaviour. E adds a threat of exclusion; F is an unkind comment. Accept more than one justified category for a harmful act, especially where pressure is also unkind. Judge the explanation and next step, not rigid labels. Do not describe a whole person as bad.

Common misunderstandings

A gift, friendly face or apology does not cancel pressure. A single respectful request can be fine; asking repeatedly to wear someone down is pressure. A young person can seek help without first confronting the person. The young person is not to blame if they freeze, agree under pressure or cannot speak.

Teaching boundary

All teaching prompts concern fictional young people. Never ask about a learner's own body, family or experiences. No touching, personal role-play or real-life comparisons are required. An adult may narrate both fictional parts while the learner chooses or explains a response. Respect a pass, pause or use of an aid without asking why. If a real concern arises, listen calmly and follow the setting's safeguarding procedure promptly. Do not promise secrecy or use a disclosure as lesson evidence. Safety is the adult's responsibility; a child is never to blame for another person's harmful act.

Feedback and follow-up

Use VF · WS · I · NS+ · // self-edit · ? read back · R responded · E evidence in the evidence record. R requires Voice, Audience, a specific NS+ prompt and the learner response in the same colour, on the same page or usual mode. E is recorded only when actual work is banked. Record prompts and unfinished work. Blank sheets and adult models are not completed learner evidence.

If work is incomplete, name the gap and arrange a supported follow-up. No qualification completion is claimed.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale