Respectful ways to sort a disagreement

Wednesday 3 March 2027 · P3 · 40 minutes · Year A

GROW PSHE · Spring 2 Week 2 · up to five learners · formative

Original lesson grouping: Conflict and respect. Spring 2 runs 22 February to 25 March 2027 for five teaching weeks.

Thread tags: SMSC S/So; British Values IL/MR. Other tags not claimed.

Exact outcome

Manage conflict and disagreement respectfully.

GROW Weekly Spring row 71 C71. Exact outcome checked against the scheme. Owner supplies the date, period and group. This is a formative lesson.

Purpose

Use the four steps for both made-up scenes. Give a calm I statement, show listening and suggest a fair next step. Show how to use an agreed pause or ask an adult. Both scenes have a practice turn. A pass or another mode is valid. All scenes are invented and mild. Use no real arguments, private names or personal accounts.

Cover preparation

Read Staff Answers and preview the routine. Prepare books, Support Cards, glossary and usual aids. Offer Type instead if useful. Agree the help signal, adult and supervised pause route before teaching. Pair only willing learners with safe roles. Staff may be the partner. Do not create a disagreement or demand a performance.

Forty minute sequence

Phase	Time	Action
Arrival and starter	0–5	Settle, agree private help/pause; recall different views.
Input	5–10	Explain mild disagreement and the four steps, including safety stop.
Model and guided work	10–17	Model A and I statements; match a step or improve advice.
Private hinge and choice	17–22	Check fair choices/safety; choose response format and access.
Two scene practice	22–34	Scene B22–28; scene C28–34. Offer calm pair/staff/aid rehearsal for both.
Review	34–38	Use shared checks, one next step and actual own response.
Private exit	38–40	Explain safe pause/return or help route and close calmly.

Total 40 minutes. Processing time and quiet pauses are inside the phases. Practice B takes 22–28 and practice C 28–34. Both response formats cover both scenes; choose a format, not a scene.

Where this leads

This helps me hear different views, make a fair plan and ask for support in a group or future work.

Teaching and response routes

Starter choices

Choose whether wanting different first steps is a disagreement. Or explain how people can show respect while still having different views. Use made-up learners only.

Input

A disagreement means people have different views or wants. In a safe, everyday disagreement, they can listen and look for a fair next step. Respect does not mean having to agree or give in.

Model A

Two invented learners want the same card shape for a model. Each thinks they should use it first. Both are safe and willing to listen. One learner says I would like a turn next. The other explains they need one short turn. They listen and agree to swap after that turn. They can ask staff for a fair plan if they do not agree.

Guided choices

Match a clear request to a routine step. Or improve One person must give in. Model listening and a fair plan or adult help. Fade answer cues while keeping usual aids and the visible model.

Two equal formats

Make a four-step map and select or write calm lines for BOTH scenes. Write a short script or support note for BOTH scenes. Choose a response format, not a scene. Both formats cover both disagreements, an I statement, listening, a fair next step and the pause/help route. Both scenes have a rehearsal opportunity in the lesson. Writing alone is not recorded as spoken or paired rehearsal.

Rehearsal and access

Offer both invented scenes to every learner. Use pairs with agreed roles, calm voices and no touch. A trusted adult can be the partner; pointing, typing, selecting lines, an aid or exact scribe/readback are equal routes. No forced speech, eye contact, apology, agreement or performance. Stop if uncomfortable. Passing is not failure; record what was actually seen.

Supported

Keep the routine and model. Use two line choices, word bank and starter for both scenes. Point, type, use a usual aid, staff partner or exact scribe and readback. Record usual access apart from content cues.

Independent

Use the routine and normal aids. Choose calm I statements for both scenes, listen/check, explain a fair plan and the pause/help route. Rehearse with the chosen safe partner or access mode.

Aspire

Compare two fair options in each scene. Adapt the plan if they still cannot agree. Explain when the routine should stop for adult help. Extra reasoning never needs a real personal story.

Agreed pause and return

A learner may say I need a pause. Can we return with staff help? Staff agree the supervised place, support and check-back. Return only when staff and both learners judge the talk safe. Staff can help in another way if a return does not fit. Never walk away alone or return to harm.

Model: Add a way to check the other person's view.

Private exit

Words: trusted adult · safe · help

Start: If the talk is unsafe…

Model: Stop and ask a trusted adult for help.

Response modes

Books are the first route. Evidence Sheet page 2 offers Type instead for both formats and both scenes. Point, select a line, draw, use a usual aid or exact scribe. Read back quietly and allow correction. Keep reading and language aids. Plan in any language. No public questioning.

Prompt ladder

Point to the place or instruction. Ask a short private question. Rephrase. Offer a scaffold or choice. Model the first step only, then return the task. Allow time. Record answer cues apart from usual access.

Checks and planned access

Main private hinge

Two learners cannot agree on the first safe task. What fits the routine? A One must give in so there is no conflict. B Listen, try a fair plan or ask trusted staff for help. C Raise their voices until one agrees. D Walk away alone and never check back. Check privately. B or safe equivalent with a reason: proceed. A makes agreement compulsory; C escalates; D drops safe support and check-back. Re-model and use parallel A. A pass or no response is not observed, never a failure label.

Parallel check

The talk no longer feels safe. A Stop and get trusted adult help. B Keep using the routine until the other person agrees. Correct A. A safe routine must stop when the talk is unsafe. A pass is unobserved.

Questions in private

F What could the learner ask for? M How can they check the other view? H What if both still cannot accept the plan? Use words, pointing, a note or usual aid. No public questioning.

Misconceptions

Respect does not require agreement or giving in. A calm I statement is a clear request, not hidden blame. Taking a pause does not mean walking away alone or having to return to harm. Unsafe treatment needs trusted adult help.

Planned adaptations

Cognition and Learning: one routine step at a time, visible model and short choices. Communication and Interaction: wait time, usual aid, line choices, typing or exact scribe with readback. SEMH: mild predictable fiction, no actual conflict, private response, pass and supervised pause. Sensory and Physical: calm voice, no touch or exertion, clear print and usual seating. EAL: explain respect, fair and pause with examples; plan in any language.

TA focus

Input: model a clear request and listening. Guided work: step match or advice repair with wait time. Practice: offer both B and C, safe partner or access mode, record actual rehearsal versus written planning and content prompts. Acknowledge pause signals and keep supervision. Do not fill missing answers or ask for a real disagreement.

Review and exit

Check a response or repair Everyone must agree at once. Set one specific NS and keep the pupil reply. Exit may explain a safe pause and return or the adult-help route. The learning self-check is Ready to explain / With a prompt / Need another example; it does not rate calmness or behaviour.

Evidence cover and private support

Evidence judgement

Keep actual fictional work for both scenes: routine, I statement, listening/check, fair option and pause/help. Record partner, response mode and what was actually rehearsed. Writing alone is not spoken or paired rehearsal. Usual access is distinct from content cues. Keep partial work and a next chance; pass is not observed. A classroom task does not prove future conduct.

Feedback and portfolio

Retain actual fictional work and the first response. Record usual access separately from adult content prompts, partner/mode and actual rehearsal opportunities. Give one NS and allow the learner's actual response in their own colour or usual mode. E only for actual saved evidence. R only after Voice, Audience, one NS and the actual pupil response. Offer to the Communication portfolio; staff confirm any mapping. Do not infer safe real-world conflict behaviour from a classroom task.

Non specialist cover

Use the supplied calm cases. If display or typing fails, read the cards and use a book, pointing, aid or exact scribe. Staff can act as the safe partner. No real conflict, touch, raised voice, personal story, apology or agreement is required. Record an adapted or passed rehearsal honestly. Stop if uncomfortable. For unsafe or unsure situations, use adult help, not peer mediation.

Private response

All class work and rehearsal use the invented scenes. No real argument, family detail or name is requested. No public account or public speaking is required. A pupil may pass, use an aid or rehearse with staff. Any optional personal card stays with the pupil and is not collected, photographed, displayed or compared.

Safety stop

Use the routine only for mild, safe disagreements. It is not for threats, harm, repeated unkind treatment or pressure. Stop and tell a trusted adult or school staff if unsafe or unsure. Staff use the safeguarding lead when needed. No one has to solve harm alone or agree to keep peace.

Private help

Ask a trusted adult or school staff in private. Say Can we talk in private? I need help with a disagreement. Use words, a note, HELP or a usual aid. If the first adult is busy or help is not enough, ask another trusted adult. For an urgent safety concern, get adult help at once through the school route.

Discreet step out

Before teaching, agree a discreet HELP or PAUSE signal, available adult and familiar supervised route. Staff acknowledge it quietly and keep adult support. No public reason is needed. Offer a neutral task, supported return or private catch-up. No learner leaves alone.

Safeguarding

Any disclosure goes to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. Listen calmly, reassure, do not probe, investigate or promise secrecy. Follow urgent school procedures for immediate concerns. Keep real concerns and identifying details in the separate safeguarding record, not learning evidence. A pupil unable to identify a trusted adult is supported privately, not pressed.
