Exact outcome

Explore rights, responsibilities and getting on as citizens.

Meaning

A right is a basic thing everyone is entitled to. Rights are not prizes for good behaviour. A responsibility is a way to act with care for others and help protect their rights. A person still has rights if they break a rule. Adults help with fair and safe ways to put things right.

Getting on as citizens

In this lesson, getting on as citizens means taking part and caring for a shared community. Everyone can contribute. It is not a test of a person's background or legal status. A fair rule considers people's needs and access. Fair does not always mean that everyone gets the same help or time.

Matching principle

Match each right to an action that helps protect it. Several actions may protect more than one right; explain the link. Rights are not earned by doing the action. Adults also have duties to protect rights. Do not make rights depend on obedience or take them away as a punishment.

Right and action matches

Right	Action	Reason
1	B	Each view matters. Being heard does not mean getting every choice.
2	D	People may need different support or more space to join in.
3	A	Adults help keep people safe. A concern does not need proof first.
4	C	Privacy does not mean keeping a safety concern secret. Staff share concerns with the safeguarding lead.

Suggested matches are 1 B, 2 D, 3 A and 4 C. Several actions can help protect more than one right. Accept another safe link with a clear explanation. The action never earns the right. Adults also have duties to protect rights.

Charter and community model

An invented charter

Draft three short lines for an invented class. Each line links a right to an action that helps protect it. Keep everyone's rights in place, allow access needs and include a trusted adult help route. This is an imagined charter, not a rule or contract for the real group. No names or signatures.

Model line 1

Everyone can have a say. We listen in each person's usual way.

Model line 2

Everyone can take part. We make space and use fair turns with support.

Model line 3

Everyone can be safe. We use things with care and ask a trusted adult for help.

Community scene answer

Everyone keeps their rights to take part, be heard and be safe. The group can ask the adult activity leader to make the route clear safely. They can listen to each view and agree a fair plan for turns, with any access support needed. They must not move another person's aid or belongings without asking. If the plan is not safe or fair, tell a trusted adult.

Equal demand

Map B and note C both include all four matches and a reason, three charter lines, and the community step, reason and help. A map needs no art skill and a note needs no extra length. Keep models and usual aids available while recording actual content help.

Main and parallel hinge

Main B. A makes rights a reward. C treats power as permission. D confuses privacy with secrecy. Re-model then use parallel A: ask an adult to adapt the plan fairly. A pass is unobserved. Check privately in the usual response mode.

Misconceptions and repair

Basic rights stay when a rule is broken. Responsibilities help protect rights rather than buy them. Fair support can differ because needs differ. Being heard does not mean always getting a choice. Privacy has safeguarding limits; a safety concern is shared with the safeguarding lead through school procedure.

Evidence and safe delivery

Judgement

Check the three task parts and reasons from fictional work. Retain partial evidence and actual prompts. Usual aids, typing and exact scribing do not supply answers. Log adult answer choices or models as content help. Do not judge real conduct, personal background, legal status or agreement to real class rules.

Voice and audience

A learner may suggest a change through words, pointing, typing or an aid, or pass. A staff listener records the fictional charter idea and explains how it could improve the draft. A vote or loud voice cannot remove another person's rights. No agreement to real rules or public speaking is required.

Privacy

All charter and scene work is fictional. No personal background, real dispute, name or signature is requested. Optional personal reminders stay with the pupil and are not collected, photographed, displayed or compared. Blank, pass and a supervised pause remain valid. No learner must sign or agree to a real class charter.

Cover fallback

Use printed pairs, the made-up class and community scene if display fails. No real signatures, access-route changes, moving aids, live accounts or personal disputes. Adults organise safe access. For any actual concern use the school help and safeguarding routes.

Feedback

Retain actual fictional learning evidence, usual access and content prompts. Set one NS and allow a reply in the pupil's own colour or usual mode. E only for actual saved work. R only after Voice, Audience, one NS and an actual pupil response. Offer to the Communication portfolio; staff confirm any mapping. Optional personal reminders and real concerns are not learning evidence. Any offer for the unit award depends on staff checking actual evidence and current requirements.

Private help

Ask a trusted adult or school staff in private. Use words, a note, HELP or a usual aid. Staff can take a concern to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. If one adult is unavailable or help is not enough, ask another trusted adult. For an immediate safety concern, get adult help at once. No named service, organisation, website or phone number is needed.

Discreet step out

Before teaching, agree the discreet HELP or PAUSE signal and familiar supervised place and route. Staff acknowledge it quietly and keep adult support. No public reason is needed. Offer a neutral task, supported return or private catch-up. Do not send a learner away alone. Pass is not failure.

Safeguarding

Any disclosure goes to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. Listen calmly, reassure, do not probe, investigate or promise secrecy. Follow urgent school procedures for immediate concerns. Keep real concerns and identifying details in the separate safeguarding record, not learning evidence. A pupil unable to identify a trusted adult is supported privately, not pressed.
