Two ways to show reporting knowledge

Know how to report concerns and seek help.

Use the invented stories. No real concern, account or personal card is needed. Keep your usual aids. You can pass or ask for the agreed pause.

Choice 1 Report map

Use B on Support Cards. Make a map or list in your book. Use the checks below.

Choice 2 Support note

Use C on Support Cards. Write a short note for the invented learner. Use the same checks. For a safe online report step, use model A as well. The worry in C need not be online.

Shared success checks

Spot a concern in the story. Choose a school support role and an outside support role. Give a private way to ask. Explain a safe action, what may happen next and how to ask again. For an online step, use your story or the online model A.

Main task choice

Words: concern · role · opener · check back

Start: The learner could… because…

Model: Ask school staff because private details were shared.

Visible model from A

Repeated unkind replies may affect wellbeing. School staff can listen, follow the school route and help use report or block tools. The learner can ask what comes next and when to check back. They could ask: Can we talk in private? I need help with unkind replies.

Learning self check

Ready to explain [ ] With a prompt [ ] Need another example [ ]

All boxes start blank. Check story learning only. This does not rate wellbeing or whether someone has reported a real concern.

One next step

Keep your first try, one next step and your reply in your own colour or usual mode. Your private three-role card stays with you.

Type instead

Choose map B or note C. Both have the same checks. Use a work code, not a name. No real concern, account detail or private card here.

Save using the usual routine, lesson code and work code. Show the adult privately. A book, aid or exact scribe is also valid. A scribe reads back quietly so you can correct it.

Staff evidence record

PSHE-GROW-S1-W05 E1 · Wednesday 3 February 2027 · P3

Use a work code. Record fictional learning only. Keep real concerns in the separate safeguarding record. Do not inspect or copy the private card.
