Staff answers and teaching notes

Outcome and boundaries

Name a big feeling and a way to manage it.

Name a stated big feeling and choose a safe familiar school strategy in a third-person invented scene. No diagnosis, disclosure prompt or compulsory practice. Face/body clues are possibilities, not proof. No promise that a technique removes a feeling.

Stories and model

Story A cross is stated in the quote. Hands may feel tight. Possible safe help: breathe or tell someone. When I feel cross I can tell someone.

Story B

sad is stated in the quote. The body may feel slow. Possible safe help: tell someone or take space. When I feel sad I can tell someone.

Story C

worried is stated in the quote. The tummy may feel tight. Possible safe help: tell someone or breathe. When I feel worried I can tell someone.

Story D

excited is stated in the quote. The body may want to move. Possible safe help: move or take space. When I feel excited I can move.

C and private hinge

Main B: a face/body clue may fit but does not prove a feeling; use the words. Parallel A: choose a safe help step rather than claim the feeling must go away now. Model check: A says cross; tell someone or breathe may fit. No public hands-up check. Re-model the quote/frame and recheck privately. A pass is unobserved.

Help choices

All four strategies can be possible, depending on the person and the school’s agreed version. Prepared pairs are examples, not one right match. Accept another safe choice with a short explanation or selection. No promise that a feeling will go away.

Individual evidence and support

Possible response
For invented D: “When I feel excited I can move.” A safe agreed take-space or tell-someone option may also fit. The first-person sentence is practice for the story or picked words, not a request for a personal account. A drawing/label/point/aid/scribe naming feeling and safe help has the same goal.

Scaffolds for each task

Starter
Bank: cross, sad. Starter: The story says ... . Visible model: Story A says, “I feel cross.”

Model check
Bank: cross, tight, tell. Starter: The feeling is ... . Help is ... . Visible model: Story A: “When I feel cross I can tell someone.”

Guided match
Bank: sad, worried, excited, breathe, move, tell, space. Starter: The story says ... . They could ... . Visible model: Story A: cross; tell someone. Other safe help can fit.

Private hinge
Bank: words, face, may, help. Starter: A clue may ... . The words say ... . Visible model: Story A states cross. A face alone is not proof.

Help choice
Bank: breathe, move, tell, space. Starter: They could ... . Visible model: Story A: “They could tell a trusted adult.”

Individual line or drawing
Bank: cross, sad, worried, excited, breathe, move, tell, space. Starter: When I feel ... I can ... . Visible model: Story A: “When I feel cross I can tell someone.”

Feedback and exit
Bank: feeling, help, ask. Starter: A feeling is ... . A safe step is ... . Visible model: Story A: cross; tell someone in private.

Scribe and private route
Record the learner’s chosen words exactly, read back privately and allow correction. Keep usual aid separate from supplied answers. No current-feeling question or public retelling.

Familiar school options

breathe
Use only the school’s already familiar, agreed breath routine. No breath-holding, counts, depth demands or compulsory practice. If uncomfortable or unhelpful, stop and choose another option.

move
Use the existing agreed movement option in a safe space, with usual support and sensory/physical adaptations. Do not introduce exercise demands.

tell someone
Use the school’s help route to an available trusted adult. Speech, aid, pointing, writing or exact scribe valid; seek another adult through route if first is busy.

take space
Use the school’s agreed supported pause/quiet space. Let the adult know; do not send a pupil away alone or imply leaving supervision. Keep a supported return available.

Common errors to correct
A face proves feeling: use the story words. One fixed match: accept safe alternatives. Help must remove feeling: it may help, with support and time. Big feelings are wrong: judge naming and safe choice, not the feeling. Drawing skill is not assessed.

Route decisions
Supported, Independent and Aspire all retain the seven Level 2 banks, starters and visible models. No route needs personal disclosure or a coping demonstration. Read, point, draw, aid, type or faithful scribe valid; plan in any language.

Evidence record
Keep actual feeling/help response, usual access, content cues, first try, NS and reply. E saved evidence; R after Voice, Audience, NS and response. Offer to Communication portfolio; staff confirm mapping. Formative Week 2; Week 6 assessing.

Staff disclosure note
If a pupil discloses, listen calmly, reassure and pass the concern to the safeguarding lead through the school’s procedure. Do not probe or promise secrecy. Keep details out of this pack and shared evidence.

Delivery scope
40 minutes in 12/13/15-minute chunks; two one-minute resets within total. Only Week 2 authored. No new clinical routine or later RSE content. Pause for Downloaded.
