Staff answers and cover notes

Exact outcome

Manage conflict and disagreement respectfully.

Meaning

A disagreement means people have different views or wants. In a safe, everyday disagreement, they can listen and look for a fair next step. Respect does not mean having to agree or give in.

1 Pause and check safety

Stop the talk for a moment. Use a familiar calm choice or ask for an agreed pause. If anyone feels unsafe, stop and get a trusted adult.

2 Say one thing calmly

Use I feel ... when ... . I would like ... . Keep to the task and a clear request. No blame, insults or raised voices.

3 Listen and check

Let the other person respond in their usual way. Check what they mean. Each person can want something different.

4 Agree a next step or ask for help

Choose a fair, safe plan that both can accept. If they cannot agree, ask a trusted adult. They may use an agreed pause and check with staff before a safe return.

I statements

I feel ... when ... . I would like ... . A clear request can be I would like a turn next. An I statement is not a way to hide blame, such as I feel that you are always wrong.

Agreed pause

A learner may say I need a pause. Can we return with staff help? Staff agree the supervised place, support and check-back. Return only when staff and both learners judge the talk safe. Staff can help in another way if a return does not fit. Never walk away alone or return to harm.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale

Fictional answers and checks

A Model

Two invented learners want the same card shape for a model. Each thinks they should use it first. Both are safe and willing to listen. One learner says I would like a turn next. The other explains they need one short turn. They listen and agree to swap after that turn. They can ask staff for a fair plan if they do not agree.

B The shared pencil

Two invented learners want to use the same colour pencil for a poster. Both need a short turn. Each wants to go first. Possible line: I feel cross when I do not know whose turn is next. I would like us to agree a turn. They could agree short turns and a swap cue, or ask staff to help plan turns. Accept other clear, respectful requests and fitting safe options.

C The order of two tasks

Two invented learners plan a small display. One wants to place the cards first. The other wants to choose the heading first. Both tasks need doing. Possible line: I feel stuck when we have two plans. I would like us to choose the first step together. They could hear each reason and agree an order, or take an agreed supervised pause and return with staff help. Accept other clear, respectful requests and fitting safe options.

Equal demand

Choose a response format, not a scene. Both formats cover both disagreements, an I statement, listening, a fair next step and the pause/help route. Both scenes have a rehearsal opportunity in the lesson. Writing alone is not recorded as spoken or paired rehearsal. No art, extra length or public performance needed. Both practice opportunities remain in 22–34 minutes.

Main and parallel hinge

Main B. A makes giving in compulsory. C escalates by raised voices. D loses safe support and return. Re-model then use parallel A: stop and get trusted adult help if unsafe. Check privately. Pass is unobserved.

Misconceptions

Respect means hearing a different view, not agreeing with it. I statements should name a clear request, not blame. A fair plan needs both people to accept it; adult support can be the next step. The routine is never a duty to stay with harm.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale

Evidence and safe delivery

Judgement

Assess fictional knowledge and actual practice for each scene. Note usual aids separately from answer cues. A staff partner, aid, pointing, line choice or exact scribe does not make the learner thinking invalid. Record the actual mode and prompts. Written plans alone are not evidence of spoken rehearsal. Do not judge personal calmness or future conduct.

Rehearsal

Offer both invented scenes to every learner. Use pairs with agreed roles, calm voices and no touch. A trusted adult can be the partner; pointing, typing, selecting lines, an aid or exact scribe/readback are equal routes. No forced speech, eye contact, apology, agreement or performance. Stop if uncomfortable. Passing is not failure; record what was actually seen.

Private response

All class work and rehearsal use the invented scenes. No real argument, family detail or name is requested. No public account or public speaking is required. A pupil may pass, use an aid or rehearse with staff. Any optional personal card stays with the pupil and is not collected, photographed, displayed or compared.

Feedback

Retain actual fictional work and the first response. Record usual access separately from adult content prompts, partner/mode and actual rehearsal opportunities. Give one NS and allow the learner's actual response in their own colour or usual mode. E only for actual saved evidence. R only after Voice, Audience, one NS and the actual pupil response. Offer to the Communication portfolio; staff confirm any mapping. Do not infer safe real-world conflict behaviour from a classroom task.

Safety stop

Use the routine only for mild, safe disagreements. It is not for threats, harm, repeated unkind treatment or pressure. Stop and tell a trusted adult or school staff if unsafe or unsure. Staff use the safeguarding lead when needed. No one has to solve harm alone or agree to keep peace.

Private help

Ask a trusted adult or school staff in private. Say Can we talk in private? I need help with a disagreement. Use words, a note, HELP or a usual aid. If the first adult is busy or help is not enough, ask another trusted adult. For an urgent safety concern, get adult help at once through the school route.

Discreet step out

Before teaching, agree a discreet HELP or PAUSE signal, available adult and familiar supervised route. Staff acknowledge it quietly and keep adult support. No public reason is needed. Offer a neutral task, supported return or private catch-up. No learner leaves alone.

Safeguarding

Any disclosure goes to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. Listen calmly, reassure, do not probe, investigate or promise secrecy. Follow urgent school procedures for immediate concerns. Keep real concerns and identifying details in the separate safeguarding record, not learning evidence. A pupil unable to identify a trusted adult is supported privately, not pressed.

Lesson resource · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0: free for classroom use, share and adapt with credit, no resale