

Knowledge Organiser (GROW W6): Planning an account

Humanities Aut 1 · 2026–27 · Workbook outcome: Plan a structured account using evidence.

Key Word	Definition
Modelled:	Modelled: claim, the dock changed the town. Evidence, the table of numbers. Explanation, four thousand jobs in one place pulls houses and shops after it. Conclusion, so the street plan we still use was set by one decision.
Ranked together:	Ranked together: the table opens, because it is wide and hard to argue with. The photograph goes second, because it is close. The newspaper line goes last until we know who wrote it.

Key Facts

- Last week you judged how significant something was. This week you plan the account that carries the judgement.
- The four parts are: claim, evidence, explanation, conclusion.

Arrival Task

Retrieving what an account needs

1) Last week you judged how significant something was. This week you plan the account that carries the judgement.

2) The four parts are: claim, evidence, explanation, conclusion.

Two plans for the same account

Two plans, same event, same three sources. Plan A: evidence, evidence, evidence, claim. Plan B: claim, strongest evidence, explanation, conclusion.

Try it: look at your three evidence cards. Which one would you put first? Hold that. Do not move it yet.

We Do 1: Sequence the parts, then rank the evidence

Card A: a photograph with a date on the back. What can it prove on its own?

Card B: one line from a newspaper. Who wrote it and when?

Card C: a table of numbers over ten years. What does the shape of it show?

We Do 2: Build the plan another person could write from

We fill one grid as a class. Everyone writes the explanation box on a whiteboard first, then we hold up the boards at the same time. Claim and evidence are already on the board. Your job is the explanation: why does that card support that claim?

Your route

Four boxes in sentences, ranking with reasons, and what the weakest card would need to become the strongest.

The model

Modelled: claim, the dock changed the town. Evidence, the table of numbers. Explanation, four thousand jobs in one place pulls houses and shops after it. Conclusion, so the street plan we still use was set by one decision.

Ranked together: the table opens, because it is wide and hard to argue with. The photograph goes second, because it is close. The newspaper line goes last until we know who wrote it.

Check yourself

- Check yourself: is your claim in the first box, not the last?
- Check yourself: does your explanation box say why, not what?
- Check yourself: can you defend the card you put first?

Planning an account

SoW: 'GROW Weekly - Autumn'!C51 — "Plan a structured account using evidence."

Learning objective: I can put the four parts of an account in order and rank my evidence, so that another person could write the account from my plan.

No personal or family history is required. Every task can be completed from the supplied evidence cards.

Plan grid

Claim → evidence → explanation → conclusion. Rank the evidence before you write.

The first row is done for you, from the grid we filled together. It is in italics so you know it is not yours.

Independent Work – Stretch

Four boxes, ranking with reasons, and what the weakest card would need.

Box	What goes in it	Which card and why
claim	the dock changed the town	card C, ten-year table, wide and hard to argue with

Choose a route

- 1. I chose my own route.
- 2. My plan is in my own words.
- 3. Any adult help is written on the record.

Exit Ticket – Stretch

1) Give your plan to a partner. They write the first sentence of the account from it and read it back.

2) Did the sentence argue something other than your claim? Change one box so the plan says what you meant. That change is your influence.

3) Next week you write the account from this plan and assess it.
