Support for six source checks

Tuesday 19 January 2027 | P2 | 40 minutes | Year A

Humanities | LAUNCH | Spring 1 Week 3 | HUM-LAUNCH-S1-W03

Pink paper version. Read quietly, point, write, type, speak privately or direct a scribe. You may pass. No public answer or reading aloud is required.

1 Find the context

N1 is the account. N2 tells us who recorded it, when and why. Keep the event and recording dates apart.

2 Compare a claim

Use the boxes or opening time. N3 is a plan; N4 is a record of the event. N5 used N1, so it is not a separate witness.

3 Keep a useful limit

N1 helps with ____ because ____. It cannot establish ____ because ____. I would check ____.

4 Apply the method with respect

Use G1 in general terms only. Why might an account be recorded? What context and independent documents would help? How should we listen? Do not invent a survivor’s words or story.

Pair roles

Evidence Finder locates a claim and card. Question Checker asks maker, timing, purpose and limit. Swap roles. These are learning roles, not historical roles.

Keep your own short judgement in your book. Plan in any language. An adult may read exactly or scribe your chosen words.

A pause and a quiet task

Tuesday 19 January 2027 | P2 | 40 minutes | Year A

Humanities | LAUNCH | Spring 1 Week 3 | HUM-LAUNCH-S1-W03

Pink paper version. Read quietly, point, write, type, speak privately or direct a scribe. You may pass. No public answer or reading aloud is required.

PAUSE

Point to PAUSE or tell the adult quietly. Use the agreed supervised place. You do not need to explain to the group. When ready, choose a private recap or more time with the quiet task. The adult will help you rejoin.

Neutral work you can choose

Quiet task: put these made-up daily times in order: 14:00 club; 08:30 reading; 12:00 lunch; 10:00 break. Copy or point to the first and last. Then sort pencil and book, cup and plate, by use. No history words or personal story are needed.

Put your list in your book, type or direct a scribe. Pointing is also welcome.

When you feel ready

Tell the adult quietly. Choose a private recap, more quiet time or a later supported return. No personal story is needed.

This task does not show the history outcome. The adult records what you actually did.
