Teacher answers · Arrival

Arrival · Supported

Point to the picture that matches the top one.

The lower left picture matches the top one.

Arrival · Supported

Which meaning fits belonging?

Feeling part of a group and welcome in it

Arrival · Supported

Give one way a faith community can support belonging.

For example, sharing a meal, praying together or serving others.

Arrival · Supported

Does everyone in a faith community feel belonging in the same way?

No. Belonging varies between individuals.

Arrival · Independent

Point to the picture that matches the top one.

The lower left picture matches the top one.

Arrival · Independent

Which meaning fits belonging?

Feeling part of a group and welcome in it

Made by Matt

Arrival · Independent

Give one way a faith community can support belonging.

For example, sharing a meal, praying together or serving others.

Arrival · Independent

Does everyone in a faith community feel belonging in the same way?

No. Belonging varies between individuals.

Arrival · Aspire

Point to the picture that matches the top one.

The lower left picture matches the top one.

Arrival · Aspire

Use belonging in an accurate example.

Belonging means feeling welcome and part of a group. In Card A, serving langar helps the Sikh volunteer feel she belongs. Accept a relevant accurate example.

Arrival · Aspire

Give one way a faith community can support belonging. Which detail supports your answer?

For example, sharing a meal, praying together or serving others. In Card A, the Sikh volunteer says that helping serve a free meal makes her feel part of the group.

Arrival · Aspire

Does everyone in a faith community feel belonging in the same way?

No. Belonging varies between individuals.

Made by Matt

Starter

What do you notice in the drawing?

Langar is linked to shared meal.

Starter

How can serving langar help a person belong?

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group.

Starter

How can serving langar help a person belong?

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group.

Starter

Do people in the same community always feel the same way?

No. The two profiles give individual views.

I do · 1

How can serving langar help a person belong?

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group.

I do · 1

Which source helps us begin?

Use card A. Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

Made by Matt

I do · 2

Which detail in the card can help with the question?

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

I do · 2

What does this clue help us say?

A practice can give someone a role in a group.

I do · 3

How could I explain the link?

Compare the details using people, place, practice and values.

I do · 3

How can I start my answer?

The source shows ____. This helps me explain ____.

I do · 4

Do people in the same community always feel the same way?

No. The two profiles give individual views.

I do · 4

What is one limit to keep in mind?

One person cannot speak for everyone.

Made by Matt

Teacher answers · We do

We do

How can serving langar help a person belong?

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group.

We do

Which clue supports your answer?

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

We do

Do people in the same community always feel the same way?

No. The two profiles give individual views.

We do

Which clue will you use?

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

We do

What is one limit?

One person cannot speak for everyone.

We do decision checkpoint

Which choice fits the evidence?

Serving a meal for anyone.

Made by Matt

We do decision checkpoint

What evidence helps you decide?

The volunteer describes feeling part of the group through service.

Made by Matt

Teacher answers · You do

You do · Supported

Check the detail you used.

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

You do · Supported

Check your reason or limit.

A practice can give someone a role in a group. One person cannot speak for everyone.

You do · Independent

Check the detail you used.

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

You do · Independent

Check your reason or limit.

A practice can give someone a role in a group. One person cannot speak for everyone.

You do · Aspire

Check the detail you used.

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

You do · Aspire

Check your reason or limit.

A practice can give someone a role in a group. One person cannot speak for everyone.

Made by Matt

Teacher answers · You do · continued

You do · Choice

Check the detail you used.

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

You do · Choice

Check your reason or limit.

A practice can give someone a role in a group. One person cannot speak for everyone.

Made by Matt

Review and improve

Is my detail accurate?

Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

Review and improve

Does my reason follow from the source?

A practice can give someone a role in a group.

Review and improve

What could I check or change?

One person cannot speak for everyone. Edit in the same colour, on the same page.

Exit · Supported

How can serving langar help a person belong?

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group.

Exit · Supported

Do people in the same community always feel the same way?

No. The two profiles give individual views.

Exit · Independent

How can serving langar help a person belong?

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group.

Made by Matt

Exit · Independent

Do people in the same community always feel the same way?

No. The two profiles give individual views.

Exit · Aspire

How can serving langar help a person belong? Use one clue.

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group. Serving langar brings people together through shared food and service.

Exit · Aspire

Do people in the same community always feel the same way?

No. The two profiles give individual views. One person cannot speak for everyone.

Exit · Choice

Point, draw, sign or tell an adult. How can serving langar help a person belong?

The Sikh volunteer serves a meal for anyone and feels part of the group.

Exit · Choice

Do people in the same community always feel the same way?

No. The two profiles give individual views.

Made by Matt