Today I can

I can explain my contribution and a choice.

I can share with an agreed audience.

I can record a response and a real next step.

Prepare

For up to five pupils: available arts logs, books and pencils.

Access only each pupil's permitted records. Cover identifying details when sharing.

Adult model audit page clearly labelled Teacher model only.

No recording device, costume, prop or internet is required.

Cover route

Use selected arts evidence if available. Model a short evidence explanation and specific feedback. Let each pupil choose a peer, small group or private adult audience. If needed, create a new two-pose drama and date its evidence today. Record actual sharing, pupil response and a feasible next step. The seven stages total 40 minutes.

Arrival 3 minutes

Say: Check that you still agree with the audience plan. You may change to a private adult share. If a selected item is unavailable, we keep that gap honest and make a short real drama response today.

Look for: Pupil reconfirms audience and has a genuine item or fresh route.

Fallback: Use the original fictional lost prop card for a short new contribution.

Check and response: Audience choice can change. A new task is dated today and does not replace a missing past claim.

Starter 3 minutes

Say: The second response names a choice and its effect. We can use that information. A maker may disagree and explain why. We avoid judgements about the person.

Look for: Pupil identifies specific feedback linked to a visible choice.

Fallback: Offer the two phrases orally with one repetition and thinking time.

Check and response: Your pause showed the change is more useful because it explains what the viewer noticed. It is still the viewer's interpretation.

I do 6 minutes

Say: I use an adult model plan. I explain: I directed the folded-sheet ending and added a pause to show a new plan. My viewer says the pause helped. I confirm that was my aim. If the viewer saw something else, I ask which detail led to that reading. My next step is to try a clearer facing.

Look for: Adult models source, contribution, choice, reason, viewer response and next step.

Fallback: Read the model aloud. Pupil points to the item while adult uses the sentence frame.

Check and response: The model shows a real share structure, not pupil evidence. Check: Which sentence tells us the maker's choice?

We do 6 minutes

Say: Take turns in the maker and viewer roles, or use an adult viewer. Ask permission before touching the work. If a pupil cannot explain the item yet, return to one choice and one reason. Do not write words they have not confirmed.

Look for: Every pupil rehearses a short explanation or directs a rehearsal. Feedback stays specific and optional.

Fallback: Adult reads a pupil-confirmed phrase and asks a single choice question.

Check and response: If the pupil can identify a choice, proceed to share. If not, make a fresh two-pose choice so there is a real contribution to explain. This is the hinge decision.

Create 14 minutes

Say: Use two or three minutes to prepare, then share in a pair, small group or privately. A fresh route is a two-pose lost prop drama, acted seated or directed. Try two endings and choose one. The viewer gives a specific response. Keep the pupil's own decision about using it. Do not demand a public performance or recording.

Look for: Each pupil shares actual arts evidence or a new witnessed contribution, receives an audience response and records a reasoned next step.

Fallback: Pupil directs the adult performance and selects an ending by gesture. Adult states the confirmed choice to the agreed viewer. Pupil confirms the feedback record.

Check and response: Example only: My viewer saw that the prop was found. I will keep the final pose but pause longer. If sharing is declined, record preparation and plan another opportunity honestly.

Review 5 minutes

Say: Read the note back to the maker. The maker can correct it. Separate what was shown from what is planned. In the last two minutes, store the item safely and clear the performance space.

Look for: The maker confirms an accurate record, including disagreement or an uncompleted share where applicable.

Fallback: Read one short sentence and offer keep / change.

Check and response: A true note might say shared privately with an adult, or prepared but not yet shared. Neither should be changed into a public performance claim.

Exit 3 minutes

Say: Record the audience type, your actual contribution, feedback and next step. Use no personal names in this template. Keep missing evidence marked as a gap. This is progress towards the award, not a completion claim.

Look for: A dated sharing record preserves pupil voice and distinguishes completed evidence from future plans.

Fallback: Adult scribes a short oral or gestured response and reads it back.

Check: Example only: I shared my two-pose drama with one adult. They noticed the ending. I will keep the pause because it helped the story.

Evidence and review

Keep the actual story plan, dated observation and pupil-confirmed arts-log words. Record the contribution and help used. A photograph or recording is optional and follows local consent procedures. Model examples are never entered as pupil evidence.

Misconceptions

Sharing must be a public performance - An agreed private adult audience is valid. Record the audience honestly.

Feedback must change the maker's work - The maker can keep a choice or change it for a reason.

A viewer can decide the maker's intention - Ask the maker to confirm or explain. Distinguish intention from audience interpretation.

A prepared share can be recorded as completed - Only record sharing that happened. Keep a declined or unfinished share as a future opportunity.

Questions

foundation: Which part comes first?

middle: What helps us see the change?

higher: Which choice makes the story clearer, and why?

Drama access and safety

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 1 · Wednesday 24 February 2027 · P5

Safety

Clear bags and chairs from the acting area. Mark personal space by agreement; no touch, lifting, chasing, falls, climbing, weapons or thrown objects. Mime props. A still pose may be seated and lasts only a comfortable few seconds.

Emotional and sensory access

Agree an open-hand stop signal and a quiet return cue. Keep voices at talking level. Allow pass, private sharing and a calm pause. Do not use sudden noises, personal stories or forced eye contact.

Planned adaptations

Cognition And Learning: Show one story part at a time. Rehearse first, next and last. Use two choices and fade prompts.

Communication And Interaction: Offer point, sign, speech, drawing or a pupil-directed adult. Give thinking time. Repeat the pupil choice for confirmation.

Semh: Use invented roles. Agree audience and opt-out before rehearsal. Give each pupil a real choice without a public performance demand.

Sensory And Physical: Offer seated, silent or directing roles. Keep walking pace and safe personal space. Stop if a pose is uncomfortable.

Eal: Plan in any language. Show freeze, move and share with gestures. Accept labels, drawings or an oral response before a full sentence.

The award and evidence

Both pathways work at Explore. Retain actual participation, exploration, creation and sharing evidence for the award. These lessons do not certify completion. Optional next level work in GROW is additional.

A pause, a request for help or a new plan can show resilience. Pupils do not need to act out real distress or tell a personal story.

Optional next level stretch

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 1 · Wednesday 24 February 2027 · P5

Task

Compare your aim with what the viewer saw. Will you use one idea they gave you? Say why. Set one skill to try. Say how you will check it.

Evidence

Keep your real item, your own reason and the viewer's words. Add your skill goal and a plan to check it.

Optional scope

Additional reflection may support later work at the next level. This is optional and does not certify completion of the award.

Support

Pupil uses specific evidence from the share and keeps ownership of the artistic choice.

Adult asks the same questions one at a time and records the pupil's confirmed words. A private share is enough.
