Performance encounter variants

Creative Arts · Spring 2 Week 2

A real encounter

If a genuine live or recorded performance encounter has already taken place, record its actual date, art form, one observed technique and the pupil's response. Use a generic record without third-party personal details. Do not add a visit or audience that did not occur.

When there is no prior record

Use the supplied invented class demonstration as today's exploration. Call it an adult class model, not an external arts visit. A pupil may watch, direct or discuss it. Date the new entry today and record what the pupil really noticed.

Access

Share privately, describe an action, point to a cue or direct a seated adult. A witnessed note can replace a photo or recording.
