Lesson

Rehearse the group story

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 4 · Monday 15 March 2027 · P6

Year A · Explore · Theme Resilience & Change

Scheme outcome

Rehearse and refine the group performance.

Today I can

I can play or direct my agreed role.

I can use a real trial to choose one change.

I can log my own choice and the viewer's response.

Prepare

For up to five pupils: available arts logs, books and pencils.

The real four-beat outline and feedback from last week, where available.

Clear personal spaces or chairs for silent hand performance. All props and scenery are imagined.

Keep today's target, actual feedback and individual contributions for Wednesday. No device or costume is required.

Cover route

Recover last week's invented smaller-space scene and real notes if available. Otherwise use the four fresh beats in Arrival and date the new trial today. Run a baseline, choose one target, model a single cue change and rehearse a comparable second trial. Collect a real class or staff viewer response and each learner's contribution. Keep the outline for Wednesday. Follow the seven-stage 40-minute timing and accessible safety rules.

Drama teaching sequence

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 4 · Monday 15 March 2027 · P6

Arrival 3 minutes

Say: Use the scene about a smaller show space from last week when available. Missing plans or missed sessions do not become invented evidence. The fresh route is four beats: a wide show, a smaller space, a new choice, a small show. Agree an accessible role and audience.

Look for: Each learner has a real source plan or fresh route and a voluntary accessible role.

Fallback: Read the four fresh beats aloud and let the learner direct a seated hand version.

Check and response: A new scene or trial is dated today. Existing records keep their original date. No one needs to explain a personal change.

Starter 3 minutes

Say: Ask each learner to point to or state their actual contribution. Read a genuine earlier comment if available; otherwise observe a short trial today. Our story is invented, and every role can make a creative choice.

Look for: Learner identifies a personal contribution and the group recovers the four-beat order.

Fallback: Offer one beat at a time. Use a labelled sketch or gesture instead of a spoken account.

Check and response: The choice beat shows the group asking or testing an idea. The result shows their new small move working. If those are mixed up, rehearse just those two.

I do 6 minutes

Say: I use the invented cue-keeper example. The scene keeps the same four beats. First I rush the cue into the small move. Then I check the roles and give one calm cue. Ask a real viewer whether the change begins together. Do not script their answer. We can keep or reject a change after the trial.

Look for: Adult isolates a transition target and models testing it against real audience understanding.

Fallback: Use two seated hand roles and let a pupil point when the next cue should come.

Check and response: The target is cue timing, not a new plot. Check: Which feature changed, and what stayed the same? Repeat the transition if pupils cannot separate the two.

We do 6 minutes

Say: Run a baseline before choosing a target. Each pupil can offer an idea by speaking, pointing or directing. Choose one manageable feature: cue, pause, voice or move. If the viewer cannot identify the change and response, simplify those two beats before adding detail.

Look for: The group agrees one target from an actual trial and records how learners took part in the choice.

Fallback: Use two options linked to the real comment. Adult models the first beat only, then pupils give the next cue.

Check and response: If the viewer names the smaller space and new small move, refine one feature. If not, return to the four-beat sequence. This is the hinge decision.

Create 14 minutes

Say: Use the previous invented scene or the fresh four-beat route. Keep both trials short and comparable. Each learner makes or directs a real choice. Ask one agreed viewer from the class or invited staff. Use the actual response to decide what to keep. If a trial is unfinished, record that honestly.

Look for: Each learner has a witnessed contribution, a specific tested target and a pupil-confirmed record of the outcome.

Fallback: Rehearse seated with hands or let the pupil direct staff through the four beats. A private staff-only trial is valid.

Check and response: Example only: I waited for all roles before my cue. The viewer saw the small move begin together. A viewer may still miss the choice; keep that honest result as the next target.

Review 5 minutes

Say: Separate the maker's aim from what the viewer saw. The group can disagree with a suggestion and give a reason. In the last two minutes, relax, reset the space and keep the current outline with the genuine rehearsal note.

Look for: Group chooses a supported next action and every learner can confirm their own record.

Fallback: Read a short real viewer phrase and ask keep, change or try again.

Check and response: A useful decision links the feature to the viewer response. A general claim that it was better needs a detail.

Drama evidence and teaching checks

Exit 3 minutes

Say: Record today's date, your actual part, the target and the real response. An adult can scribe and read your words back. This rehearsal is progress towards next week's performance; it does not close the award.

Look for: Log records individual contribution and support alongside the group trial and keeps future actions separate.

Fallback: Ask one question at a time and confirm the learner's response before recording.

Check: Example only: Our target was the choice beat. I added a pause. The viewer saw us think before the new move. Next I will check the end cue.

Evidence and review

Keep the available earlier plan with its original date, a new dated rehearsal note, the actual feedback and each learner's confirmed choice and reason. Show the part before and after a change when possible. Record support and any unfinished work honestly. Fresh work is dated today. A photograph or recording is optional under local consent procedures and is not needed.

Misconceptions

Refinement needs a new story - Keep the four-beat scene. Compare one feature across two short trials.

A viewer's response must match our aim - Keep what the viewer really saw. Use a mismatch as information for the next trial.

Group success proves everyone made every choice - Record each learner's actual role, decision and help separately.

Questions

foundation: Which part will we try again?

middle: What one thing did we change?

higher: What did the watcher see that helps us judge the change?

Drama access and safety

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 4 · Monday 15 March 2027 · P6

Safety

Keep a clear personal space. Walk only; no running, lifting, falls, climbing, throws or contact. Props and scenery are imagined. Use an agreed open-hand stop cue. A freeze lasts at most three comfortable seconds, with normal breathing, then relax. Seated and hand-only versions are equal options.

Emotional and sensory access

Use invented situations and role labels. Offer actor, seated performer, silent performer or director. No forced speech, public performance, eye contact, personal account or touch. Agree a calm space, stop cue and return cue. A rehearsal may be shared privately with a trusted member of staff.

Planned adaptations

Cognition And Learning: Keep three BUILD parts or four GROW beats visible in a book or cue note. Rehearse once before changing one thing. Read one feedback point, model the first step only, then return the choice to the learner.

Communication And Interaction: Use short cue words or point to a cue word. Reserve the open hand for Stop. Offer pointing, signing, a seated gesture, silent acting, directing or an adult scribe. Give processing time. Use We changed ... because ... .

Semh: Use the familiar invented scene when available and offer an honest fresh route. Agree roles and audience privately. A pause, smaller movement, role change or private staff rehearsal is valid. Do not measure confidence or require disclosure.

Sensory And Physical: Use a chair or hands only. Agree safe space and a quiet cue. Keep voices at talking level. No touch or surprise sounds. A still pose lasts only up to three comfortable seconds while breathing normally.

Eal: Plan in any language. Link each cue word to a gesture. Allow oral rehearsal before a short log. Check meaning, sequence and the learner's intended change rather than accent or spelling.

The award and evidence

Both pathways work at Explore. The optional GROW next level stretch adds evidence for later review. This is rehearsal and refinement; next week is performance and review. These lessons do not complete or certify the award.

Resilience can include pausing, asking for help, changing a plan and trying a manageable next step. It does not mean hiding feelings, tolerating harm or continuing through pain.

Optional next level stretch

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 4 · Monday 15 March 2027 · P6

Task

Choose one skill in your role. Compare your first and later trial. What changed? What did the viewer see? Set one small skill goal for Wednesday.

Evidence

Keep your own choice, both real trial notes and the viewer's words. Add your skill goal and how you will check it.

Optional scope

This adds reflection for a possible later level review. It is optional and does not alter the Explore task or certify the award.

Support

Learner uses a concrete difference between real trials to justify a manageable personal practice goal.

Staff ask the same short questions and scribe confirmed words. A directed or seated trial can provide the real comparison.
