Scheme outcome

Reflect on my drama skills; arts-log evidence.

Today I can

I can name one drama skill I used.

I can show my own work and choice.

I can mark a gap and a next step.

Words for this lesson

skill: Something you can get better at.

review: Look back at what you did.

evidence: Real work or a note of what happened.

next step: One thing to try next.

Working safely

Use a made-up story. Keep your own space. Stop on the open hand. You can sit, stay silent or direct. You may share with just the adult.

Point: did it happen or is it pending?

Sort under A, B, C or D with help.

Say or show one skill and a next step.

Independent

Sort your real work under A, B, C and D.

Name your part, choice and a reason.

Check dates, audience and help used.

Mark each gap pending and add a next action.

Model step 1

Point to a teacher model of a real role note. Say: This tells what I did.

Model step 2

Point to a blank share record. Say: I do not know that a share happened. It is pending.

Model step 3

Sort the real note under A. Keep a planned share separate from D.

Model step 4

Say: My next action is to ask for a quiet share with a class member or invited staff.

Your own task

Review the scene. Keep real feedback. Find your own arts-log items.

Choose one skill to keep or practise next.

The adult model is an example. Your arts log must show your real choice.

The new den with hand pictures

First the group point to a big space. Next they show that the space is small. Last they make a small roof with their hands. A hand cue helps them hold each picture for three counts.

What comes first? What comes last?

Which cue could help us share our story?

The new den with short lines

One voice says, We want a den. Next a voice says, The space is small. Last a voice says, We can make a small den. Each person stays in their own space.

Which line tells us the change?

Would you use a voice, a hand cue or both? Why?

Make your own choice
