Lesson

Review the performance and close the arts log

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 5 · Wednesday 24 March 2027 · P5

Year A · Explore · Theme Resilience & Change

Scheme outcome

Review the performance; complete arts log + Bronze evidence.

Today I can

I can use real evidence to review my skill.

I can check A, B, C and D and mark gaps honestly.

I can give my own view and one next action.

Prepare

For up to five pupils: books or arts logs, pencils and each pupil's actual plan, trials, role note, share record and feedback where available.

A to D headings and the optional additional evidence checklist.

Each pupil keeps their own contribution record separate from the group outline.

No new performance audience, outside guest, device, photograph or external visit is needed.

Keep missing items pending with an exact action and the next agreed chance to do or check it.

Cover route

This is the second-slot performance review and arts-log closing lesson. Work from actual plans, trials and Monday share records. Review each learner's own part and view, then locate A to D evidence. Check optional additional skill plan, real practice, tested change and learning where available. Mark every missing item pending with an exact action. Never invent attendance, audience, feedback or a missed performance, and never declare the award complete from this checklist.

Arrival 3 minutes

Say: This second slot closes the review and arts log. Use Monday's real performance evidence where it exists. No one has to reconstruct an absent pupil's performance or invent a listener. If an item is missing, note the gap and a next action. You may work privately and plan in any language.

Look for: Pupils gather genuine records and understand the evidence-first purpose without being ranked by attendance or confidence.

Fallback: Adult reads one actual record aloud. A pupil can confirm or correct by sign, point, speech or sketch.

Check and response: Pending is an honest status. The purpose is a reliable review and next action, not a record that every box is complete.

Starter 3 minutes

Say: Ask each pupil to name one role, cue, pause or move they actually performed or directed. Find a matching item where available. Label the pupil's account as their own recollection if it is not witnessed. Keep their own view separate from a listener's actual words.

Look for: Pupil connects a real contribution to evidence and distinguishes own reflection from feedback.

Fallback: Offer two skill words and read a real note. Ask: is this right, or what would you change?

Check and response: My pause helped the scene is a personal view; the listener said the end was clear is feedback only if a real listener said it. Both are labelled honestly.

I do 6 minutes

Say: Show clearly labelled teacher models: a plan to share, a real role note and a blank feedback line. I can say I planned the share, but without an actual share record I cannot claim an audience. Check after the model: can a teacher's good example become a pupil's missing practice note? Explain the honest next action instead.

Look for: Adult models a claim, source and gap, and pupils reject fabricated evidence. No example is presented as a pupil record.

Fallback: Use two labels: real item and pending. Pupil directs the adult to place one example under each.

Check and response: No. A teacher model is exploration, not the pupil's own practice. Record the missing item as pending and plan a real opportunity or evidence check.

We do 6 minutes

Say: Use a genuine anonymous class item or an explicit teacher model. A is real participation; B an explored example and own view; C an idea, actual trial and change; D an actual share with date and audience. Hinge: if a group performed, can we tick every pupil's contribution from the group title alone? If uncertain, model a separate role-and-choice note for one learner and ask again.

Look for: Pupils use the content of evidence rather than a title or group label. Individual contribution and accurate audience are checked.

Fallback: Read one short entry and ask for a point to what it shows. Adult scribes the pupil's actual judgement and reason.

Check and response: No. Each learner needs a record of their own actual part. A plan or group title does not prove individual attendance, contribution, skill or feedback.

Create 14 minutes

Say: Use the final evidence list. A: actual role and support. B: actual source explored, notice and own view, with class models labelled as such. C: own idea, real trials, tested change and reason. D: actual share, real date and allowed audience, plus feedback only where given. Add a personal performance reflection supported by available items. For optional next level work, check a real skill goal or plan, actual practice, tested change, own view and reason, genuine learning reflection and next step. Record real feedback or sharing evidence where available. Keep missing items pending with the exact next action; do not fill them with a model or invented performance.

Look for: A closing arts-log list locates real evidence and honest gaps. Each pupil gives their own supported reflection. Optional additional evidence is retained only when it exists, and no automatic award completion is claimed.

Fallback: Adult checks one real item at a time, using keep, pending and next action choices. Pupil confirms exact words or gesture meaning. No public sharing, new recording or written paragraph is required.

Check and response: Example only: My role note supports A. My view of the class example supports B. The revised outline supports C. My actual share note supports D. My skill plan is present, but the second practice is pending; next I will practise the cue twice. The learner's list must match their own real items.

Review 5 minutes

Say: Read the record back and invite corrections. Check actual dates, audience and support, and distinguish direction from physical or vocal performance. Confirm the own-view statement belongs to the pupil. Reserve the final two minutes for calm storage. The complete portfolio still needs a separate review; the checklist does not complete the award.

Look for: The pupil confirms the record, available items can be found, gaps have actions and no invented evidence or completion claim appears.

Fallback: Use one entry at a time. Let the pupil point, sign or change a word. Adult records the actual support used.

Check and response: An honest list may have pending items in A, B, C or D and in optional next level work. Never turn a missing item into a completed claim.

Exit 3 minutes

Say: Finish a short own reflection and one practical next step. State which evidence is ready for review and which is pending. Keep the actual work and note together. Thank pupils for their specific contribution without promising an award outcome.

Look for: Dated personal reflection, evidence list and next action close the term's work honestly. Award completion remains a separate review.

Fallback: Pupil confirms one view and one action by point, sign or speech. Adult writes the confirmed words and records help.

Check: Example only: I kept the pause because it helped our change stand out. My next action is to find my real trial note. Use the pupil's own view and genuine next action.

Evidence and review

Retain a dated note of each pupil's real role, choices and work or direction, actual audience when sharing occurred, real feedback if given, and support used. Keep an honest gap for anything not done. A photo or recording is optional and follows local consent procedures. A group product never replaces the individual contribution record.

Misconceptions

The same evidence proves every part of the award - Check what each real item actually shows. The full portfolio needs a separate review.

A missed performance can be recreated in a review note - Keep it pending. A fresh later opportunity gets its own actual date and audience.

An adult should improve the learner's view - Scribe exact confirmed words. Help with access, then return the judgement and next choice to the learner.

Questions

foundation: Which real item shows your own contribution?

middle: What does your evidence show about your skill choice?

higher: Which parts are ready for review, and what exact action addresses each gap?

Drama access and safety

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 5 · Wednesday 24 March 2027 · P5

Safety

All props and story spaces are imagined. Keep movement within each person's own clear space; no den building, objects to climb on, stage combat, lifting, touching, blindfolds or breath holding. Hold a comfortable pose for about three seconds, breathe normally, then relax. Keep exits clear. Quiet sound stays at talking level or below. Record directed work as direction; do not claim the pupil physically or vocally performed an adult's action.

Emotional and sensory access

Agree the open-hand stop signal, clear personal spaces and quiet return route. Pupils may perform seated, speak, sign, use small silent moves or direct an adult. A private share with one member of the class or invited staff is valid. Offer a pass on the group audience. No personal disclosure, contact, running, sudden sound, darkness, costumes or forced facial expressions.

Planned adaptations

Cognition And Learning: Use one cue at a time. Rehearse the three or four story parts with a short model. Give two concrete choices, then fade the prompt. For reflection, sort one real item at a time under A, B, C or D; leave an honest gap if evidence is missing.

Communication And Interaction: Allow pointing, signing, a sketch, speech or an adult scribe. Give processing time. Read dictated words back and let the pupil correct them. Do not assess eye contact, accent or facial expression. Use I chose ... because ... and Next I will ... .

Semh: Keep all stories invented and low stakes. Let the pupil choose a role and amount of sharing. A pause or request for help can be a planned choice in the story. Agree a calm return cue. Review evidence without ranking pupils or comparing attendance.

Sensory And Physical: Offer seated hand poses and a silent directing role. Keep clear personal spaces. No pupil is moved into a pose. Offer a quiet private audience within the class or invited staff. An observation note can replace a photo or recording.

Eal: Plan in any language. Model first, next, last and change with gestures. Let pupils use their own language to explain a choice before adding a short English label. Check meaning before writing a confirmed arts-log note.

The award and evidence

Both pathways work at Explore. GROW retains an optional Bronze-stretch layer, labelled Optional next level stretch on pupil tasks. Retain only actual evidence. These lessons and a completed checklist do not automatically complete the award. Review the complete real portfolio and record any gaps with a next action.

Resilience can include pausing, asking for help, changing a plan and trying again. Do not ask pupils to recreate personal change, hide feelings or work through pain.

Optional next level stretch

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 5 · Wednesday 24 March 2027 · P5

Task

Check your real skill plan and practice. What did you try? What changed? Give your own view and reason. Say what you learned and one next step.

Evidence

Keep real plans, trials, changes and your own words. Add real feedback or sharing notes if you have them. Mark gaps pending and add the next action.

Optional scope

This additional skills, own-view and learning record may support later work at the next level. It is optional for Explore. A complete real portfolio needs a separate review for the award.

Support

Pupil locates actual skill planning and practice evidence, explains a tested choice in their own words, reflects on learning and records honest gaps with specific next actions.

Adult checks one item at a time and records exact confirmed choices. A pupil may point, sign, speak or draw. Directed practice is labelled as directed.
