Listening to a Sikhism visitor task

Pink supported print

Respond thoughtfully to a faith or belief visitor.

In your book, speak, point or ask for a scribe. Choose a route with an adult.

Supported route

1 Hear the printed Sikhism answers. Choose a question from two options. Point to one detail about seva or langar and tell an adult what it means.

2 Use a scribe or your book: The visitor said ____. This links to ____. Thank you for explaining ____. Choose the fair ending: this is one example, or this tells us what everyone does.

An adult can read one step at a time. Ask for two choices or a reread.

Words to help

The printed Sikhism visitor said ____. Thank you for explaining ____.

You may pass, take an agreed quiet pause and return to one short task.

Independent route

1 Choose a respectful question. Hear or reread its answer. In your book, note an accurate detail and explain how it links to seva or equality. Add one related follow-up question.

2 Write a two-sentence practice thank-you note naming what you learned. Add that one account does not speak for every Sikh. You may use the listening frame.

Words to help

This answer links to ____ because ____. A question I could ask is ____.

You may pass, take an agreed quiet pause and return to one short task.

Aspire route

1 Plan a topic question and a follow-up that uses a detail from the printed answer. Explain why each is respectful and what it could help you understand.

2 Give an accurate listening note and a short practice thank-you note. Explain why this source offers one viewpoint and why an actual visitor's own words must be recorded separately.

Words to help

This source offers one viewpoint. A detail that supports my response is ____. It does not show that every ____ because ____.

You may pass, take an agreed quiet pause and return to one short task.
