What customers need to know

Choose a poster or label for the actual offer.

Say what it is, who it helps and the price per unit.

Use accurate claims and readable lettering.

A rehearsal does not require customer contact.

Our poster or label check

Part	A useful check
Offer	A generic description of what is included.
Benefit	A truthful reason it could help the customer.
Price	Clear price for one agreed unit.
Care or use	Accurate advice, checked by the adult.

Write in your own words. Keep every claim honest.

An invented ten word pitch

A starter plant with clear care advice for new growers.

Count each word once. This model has ten words.

Write your own pitch for the chosen offer.

The actual offer and checked price can appear on the poster.

A truthful claim decision

Which claim is fair for the invented starter-plant offer?

A Includes a care card.

B This plant will always grow perfectly.

Check what the approved offer really includes.

Our pair practice

Step	Actual work to complete
Draft	Poster or label with clear offer and price.
Pitch	My ten words ____
Listener	One clear feature ____ One change ____
Improve	Revised wording or design ____

A partner or the adult can listen privately.

My marketing evidence

Our offer helps ____;

I made our message clearer by ____.

Keep the draft, feedback and your improved version.

Review and exit

Check the offer, unit price and truthful information.

Count ten pitch words and keep one useful improvement.

Clear materials and keep the draft for production planning.

This week records marketing practice, without a real sale.
