Costing and marketing jobs

White standard edition

Cost, price & marketing (links Maths).

Draft and practise

1 Choose a poster or label for the chosen offer.
2 Say what the customer gets and one useful benefit.
3 Add a checked price or mark proposed price to check.
4 Write a ten-word pitch and practise it in a pair or with an adult.

A fair message

Keep claims truthful and readable. Do not promise guaranteed growth, health benefits or sales. Use generic descriptions without personal, business, brand or place names. No real customer contact occurs.

Count and improve

Use the blank Poster Pitch record. Count ten words using its numbered spaces. Read the line slowly. The listener says: One clear point is ____. One useful change is ____. Choose an improvement and rehearse again if comfortable.

My one line

Our offer helps ____; I made our message clearer by ____.

An adult may read or scribe. A private rehearsal is allowed. Keep model figures marked invented and proposed prices clearly provisional. Return materials and tell the adult before a quiet pause.
