Tier pack: Independent route — Technique studio tasters

Pathway: TRACK · Week 1 Part 1 · Big question: How do four studio media change the mood and contrast of the same identity motif?

Independent route studio steps

Step 1: Draw your personal identity motif accurately across all four panels.

Step 2: Execute graded graphite shading (Panel 1), three-value ink wash (Panel 2), blended pastel (Panel 3), and torn/cut collage (Panel 4).

Step 3: Annotate each panel naming one technical strength and one handling challenge.

Step 4: Rank your top medium for your upcoming identity piece and state why.

Success check

Four distinct media studies completed with comparative technical annotations.

Key words helper

• medium: The specific art material or tool used to make marks.

• gradation: A smooth step-by-step shift from dark tone to light tone.

• wash: Thin ink or paint diluted with water for translucent tone.

• collage: Building an image by cutting, tearing, and layering paper shapes.

• motif: A central visual shape or emblem repeated across studies.

Review checklist

[ ] Compare all four panels from arm's length to see which medium holds the strongest contrast.

[ ] Check that every panel has a clear technical annotation underneath.

[ ] Place a protective tissue sheet over your pastel panel before storing.
