Teacher and Cover Plan

I can plan my role in a group share and test which cue helps an audience follow.

At check-out, record E for planning a role and testing cues in a group share against the pupil's target.

Regulation: check the colour-and-word card at Arrival and after You do.

Guide the same cues, display the artwork privately or track the group sequence. Your role has the same value. You may pass.

Use a clear space, layered artwork and the agreed start and stop cues. Keep sound low and leave space to pass.

Practice evidence only. No completion decision, encounter, public event or completed response is pre-filled.

Invite a response. Allow thinking time. The pupil may pass.

Ask the question

Watch the model: choose a group role and agree a quiet option.

Model selecting a role (playing, displaying layered artwork, pointing through the sequence, or giving cues). Show that a quiet or behind-the-scenes role has equal value.

Find the evidence

Check the space and place the start and stop cues in clear view.

Position the start triangle and stop square where both performers and listeners can track them. Invite pupils to check the sightlines from different seats.

Explain the link

Run the four-step sequence together and keep the stop cue visible.

Walk through start, group part, artwork display, and stop. Highlight how visible cues help the listener understand the structure.

Check what we know

Compare two listener comments and choose the one we can test.

Compare a specific comment about cue visibility with a vague comment. Model selecting the actionable comment to test.

We do staff script

Choose a group role or quiet option with an adult.

Set the start, artwork and stop cues where everyone can see them.

Run a short trial of the four-step sequence together.

Compare two listener comments and identify which one gives a clear action.

Explain to a partner which cue you would adjust and why. You may pass.

In your book, record your role and cue plan for Lesson 2.

Support role selection so every pupil has an agreed active or quiet contribution.

Run a shared trial of the sequence, then introduce a near-miss where the stop cue is partly obscured.

Guide pupils to compare specific vs vague feedback and record their cue plan in their book for Lesson 2.

We do decision checkpoint

Which comment gives the group something it can act on?

A · The stop cue was hard to see.

B · It was fine.

A. It names a specific feature that the group can adjust and test.

If pupils choose A and identify what to adjust, release the short planning task. If they choose B, model comparing the two comments against the sequence diagram and run the parallel check.

A listener says they missed when the artwork entered. Which cue should you check?

Check the artwork cue in step 3 and make sure it is held in clear view.

Review and improve

Check your recorded role and cue plan in your book.

Use one specific tip to refine the position or timing of a cue.

Test the adjusted cue once and note what improved.

Optional: show or tell an adult what you changed after feedback. You may use your usual response mode or pass.

Mark R only after the pupil has responded to the next step and an adult has received and reflected the response.

Adult ticks the improved work.

Pupil voice

What helped you most today, or what would you change next time?

Point, speak, sign, draw, write or choose. You may pass.

Lesson 2 · Finish, look back at and share the group piece

Staff print card

At check-out, record E for planning a role and testing cues in a group share against the pupil's target.

Regulation: check the colour-and-word card at Arrival and after You do.

Soft instrumental music for transitions if the class plan says so. Sound off by default.

Planning and evaluation

For absence or access, use the first worked card in I do or We do. If behind, keep one model cue, the checkpoint and one book response.

Cognition and learning

Keep a model and a two-choice start in view. Fade one cue when the pupil shows the next step.

Communication and interaction

Allow thinking time. Use a visual choice and a brief stem. Accept all listed modes or a pass.

SEMH

Offer a calm start and a private response. Keep quiet sharing equal in value.

Sensory and physical

Guide the same cues, display the artwork privately or track the group sequence. Your role has the same value. You may pass.

EAL

Plan in any language. Show the term with a picture and action.

Staff evaluation

Record one actual response, a useful adaptation and the next teaching action.

Individual target opportunities

Use the current target in private. Record the actual response and support.

Adult deployment and responsive feedback

Point to the place or instruction. Ask one short question. Rephrase the instruction. Give a scaffold or a choice. Model the first step only, then return the task.

First lesson back and return to learning

Read once only. Welcome pupils and check the last work in private. Offer the first model cue, then rejoin the chosen route.

Topic guidance

Focus on how roles and clear cues help an audience follow a shared piece. Keep quiet or private contributions equal in value.
