A Learning, not worship

In RE we learn about celebrations. Making a pattern or a card in class is learning. It is not worship, and nobody is asked to share a belief.

Source: Authored classroom rules

Limit: Pupils and families hold different views. Anyone can choose an equivalent task.

B Our activity

Choose one: a light-themed card, a rangoli-style pattern, a paper decoration or a symbol drawing. We use battery lights only. No real flame.

Source: Authored classroom rules

Limit: A classroom activity cannot show a whole festival.

C Rangoli-style patterns

Rangoli patterns are often bright and symmetrical. Many families make them by the door to welcome guests at Diwali.

Source: Authored RE summary

Limit: Not every family makes rangoli.

D Taking part with respect

Use the symbols carefully. Speak kindly about other people's celebrations. Ask if you are unsure what something means.

Source: Authored classroom rules

Limit: Respect can be shown in many ways.

Shared investigation

1. Decide whether each action is respectful in our activity.
2. Say how the action could be changed if needed.

Work with a partner or adult, or use your own table. One person suggests; the other checks the evidence. Swap after one turn. Passing is allowed.
