Remembrance and shared values / GROW_RE_A1_W07

Outcome: Explain one shared value connected to remembrance and respect.

Evidence to retain: F: reflection naming one shared value and why it matters.

Forty minute route

Arrival 4 min; starter 3; model 6; shared task 7; check 2; independent 12; review 3; exit 3.
Pause time is flexible.

Preparation

Choose one independent route. Print the evidence and shared cards, required visual or data sheet, route worksheet and exit. The organiser is one separate A4 page. Keep answers with staff.

Use calm, non-devotional framing; monitor emotional response; allow neutral reflection; reinforce respectful differences in how people remember.

Access and regulation

No personal bereavement disclosure; third-person examples; word/symbol choice; audio or scribed response; quiet alternative available.

Offer a predictable start, private response and agreed pause. No cold calling or forced personal disclosure. Rejoin at one clearly named next step. Keep teen-appropriate examples and the same learning goal across response modes.

This is learning about religion and worldviews, not worship. Nobody is asked to share a personal belief, family detail or loss.

Assessment

Use questioning and the exit response to decide the next step. Record the learner's individual contribution and the access support used.

UAS: no approved unit code is supplied. Match the learner's evidence to the centre-selected unit and exact criteria before submission. This pack makes no automatic award claim.

Model and answers

Read these pages before teaching. Hide the model during independent assessment.

Question: Name one value that Ruth and Dan share.

Evidence: B A religious response: Fictional profile: Ruth is Christian. At her church service people pray for peace and read out names from the village memorial. C A non-religious response: Fictional profile: Dan is a Humanist. He stands in silence at the town memorial and thinks about how to prevent war.

Think aloud: Respect, gratitude or hope for peace.

Check: Do people have to be religious to take part in remembrance? No. People of all worldviews remember.

Arrival answers

1. Both use light as a symbol, or both bring people together.
2. Taking time to remember people and events
3. Respect, gratitude or hope for peace.
4. No. People of all worldviews remember.

Shared activity reasoning

1. Reading out the names on a memorial — Respect. Card B: naming people honours them.
2. Thinking about how to prevent war — Peace. Card C: Dan reflects on preventing war.
3. Keeping two minutes of silence — Gratitude and respect. Card A: silence is kept to remember.

Exit responses

Name one value that Ruth and Dan share. Respect, gratitude or hope for peace.

Do people have to be religious to take part in remembrance? No. People of all worldviews remember.

Teaching and evidence record

Supplied scheme of work teaching sequence: Arrival: 4 retrieval questions. Starter: image prompt — why do people remember? I Do: explore remembrance through accessible religious and non-religious examples. We Do: identify shared values such as respect, gratitude, peace and community. You Do: create a remembrance/shared-values reflection using words, symbols or a short explanation. Exit ticket: name one shared value and why it matters.

Look for

F: reflection naming one shared value and why it matters.

Accept accurate equivalents, including speech or exact scribing. Check the concept and use of evidence rather than length or handwriting. Record access support separately from content prompting.

BUILD: a concrete example with a reason or demonstrated action. GROW: explain or compare with a relevant detail. LAUNCH: connect evidence and reasoning; use a limitation when the outcome requires it. Keep RE responses non-GCSE.

Media

Original captioned teaching model made for this pack. It demonstrates the supplied reasoning; it is not historical footage, survivor testimony or a documentary. The full transcript and factual source credits are included.

Use manual steps for a calm pace. The silent MP4 has visible captions and a matching text transcript. External archive media is optional and should be previewed before class.
