Creative Arts Spring 1 Week 1 guide

Start with the dated lesson for the pathway. Each School or Public folder is a complete portable pack. Pupils use their books or arts logs first. Print pages support access; no pupil login or specialist art kit is needed.

Both pathways work at Explore. Each lesson is complete without the optional GROW next level stretch. Week 1 contributes evidence towards the ongoing arts log and does not by itself complete an award. A description-based artist discussion is useful exploration but is not evidence of an unconfirmed live arts encounter.

Evidence file pattern

Continue the learner's existing A Take Part, B Explore, C Create, D Share and Evidence Index files if these are in use. Add dated Spring entries rather than overwriting earlier work. Blank pages are optional additions for a new entry or learner.

Suggested Week 1 entry: BUILD trials and short piece in A, with a dated choice and review. GROW artist descriptions and pupil view in B, first response in A or C according to the ongoing portfolio plan. Cross-reference the same evidence rather than duplicating it.

D is for a real share of enjoyment and achievement when it happens. Today's private feedback may support learning without proving a later planned event. The five-file pattern is an organising convention; retain any established owner file cap and count separate media within it.

What to keep

Actual date, lesson ID, art form, real test or observed sequence, chosen feature and reason, and support used. A sound or movement response can have a beat/sequence plan and a dated witness note. A photograph or audio recording is optional, never a condition of participation.

Teaching and progression guide

Explore and stretch

Both pathways work at Explore. Each lesson is complete without the optional GROW next level stretch. Week 1 contributes evidence towards the ongoing arts log and does not by itself complete an award. A description-based artist discussion is useful exploration but is not evidence of an unconfirmed live arts encounter.

GROW lesson one stretch retains accurate details about two artists, a personal view and a skill goal. Lesson two stretch retains a practice goal, before-and-after evidence, a reasoned evaluation, feedback considered and next step. These are useful additional records for possible progression. They do not establish that all next-level requirements have been met.

Artist descriptions

Henri Matisse is discussed through the changing method and arrangements of his later cut-outs. Alma Thomas is discussed through repeated marks and the off-centre rings described in The Eclipse, 1970. The resilience connection is a possible classroom interpretation, not an assertion about private feelings.

Artist facts were checked against published studio-method and collection descriptions. No copied artwork, lyrics, quotations or archive text is included. The coloured teacher-model sheet is original and is attributed to no real artist.

No materials cover route

Read aloud. Compare two silent hand patterns. Let pupils repeat a feature, change one thing and choose. Pupils give an oral log; the adult makes a dated observation note when paper is available. Pupils who prefer stillness can direct the adult or describe an original piece.

Future returns

Weeks 2 to 6 follow in separate returns from scheme rows 89 to 93. Build only the next authorised return after receipt of Downloaded. Spring 1 runs through Friday 12 February 2027.

Where this leads

Artists, designers and performers test ideas and explain their choices. These skills help when working to a brief.
