Two festivals and renewal

White standard edition

Easter

A Christian festival.

What is celebrated

Christians celebrate their belief that Jesus rose from the dead. This is called the resurrection.

How some people mark it

Many Christians gather for worship, prayer and songs. Some share meals or give decorated eggs. Eggs can be a symbol of new life. Customs vary.

What renewal may mean

For many Christians, Easter brings hope and new life through Jesus. Renewal can mean living with renewed trust in God and seeking a fresh start. This hope is connected with their faith.

Holi

A festival in Hindu traditions.

What is celebrated

Holi is a Hindu spring festival. It celebrates the arrival of spring and, in many traditions, good overcoming evil.

How some people mark it

Some people meet with family or friends, sing and share festival food. Many celebrations include coloured powders or water. People celebrate in different ways.

What renewal may mean

Spring can suggest new growth and a fresh start. Some people use Holi as a time to repair friendships or choose kindness and begin again. Meanings and customs vary across Hindu traditions.
