Context and exact dates

Remembrance Day is on 11 November. The lesson takes place on Thursday 12 November 2026, the day after. Use the short explanation that many people remember those who died in wars and think about peace. Do not add graphic detail or ask for personal or family experiences.

Source and reorder

Outcome text comes from BUILD Weekly - Autumn!C57, originally Week 5. The owner moves it to taught Week 2. The original Week 2 comparison outcome at C54 moves to taught Week 5. Row C55 remains Week 3. Today’s theme is Identity & Belonging from BUILD - Autumn!C11. Spring 1’s theme is not used here.

What counts as a response

A valid source-linked fact may be: the day is on 11 November; people remember those who died in wars; some think about peace. A care choice may be giving space, waiting for a turn, a kind word or another safe action. Pupils can select labels or direct a scribe. Do not require the model wording or a shared belief.

Misconceptions and gentle corrections

Date confusion: point to 11 November on S1 and say the lesson is the next day. Everyone must take part in the same way: point to choice/help/pass. Silence proves understanding: it does not; record what the pupil actually shows. A small care action ends war: avoid that claim; it is a way to show care in daily life.

Private checks

Offer “Show a fact on S1” and “Choose a care card.” If needed, re-read one sentence and present two labels. No group questioning, public reading, show of hands or demand for an emotional response. Treat pass and help as valid participation choices, while leaving specific learning evidence unclaimed if absent.

Record only what happened

Code	Fact and care choice	Support or evidence gap
B01	_____	_____
B02	_____	_____
B03	_____	_____
B04	_____	_____

Use B04 only if a fourth pupil attends. Leave absent pupils blank. Record exact choices, actual help, adult reply, one NS and the pupil’s response on the individual form.

Scribing and scaffolds

All tasks retain a word bank, sentence starter and visible model. The adult writes the pupil’s words or selected labels, reads back privately and checks keep/change. Record adult-supplied ideas. Do not infer independent reading or writing from a supported response.

Private help and neutral alternative

Respond to HELP/PASS discreetly. Offer an agreed quiet space within supervision or the neutral line/dot/shape task. No personal explanation to peers or forced silence. Stop the remembrance task if needed and use the usual support procedure. A neutral task is not evidence of remembrance understanding unless the pupil later makes that link.

Evidence gate

This is formative. Do not score personal feelings, beliefs, willingness to be silent or disclosure. R follows actual adult reply, NS and own response. E follows actual banking. Keep unfinished evidence visible. [AWARD] / [QUAL] decisions stay separate.
