An interactive twentieth-century timeline / LAUNCH_A1_W04

Outcome: Build an interactive timeline of twentieth century Britain.

Evidence to retain: F: chronology, accurate entries and exit check.

Forty minute route

Arrival 4 min; starter 3; model 6; shared task 7; check 2; independent 12; review 3; exit 3.

Pause time is flexible.

Preparation

Choose one independent route. Print the evidence and shared cards, required visual or data sheet, route worksheet and exit. The organiser is one separate A4 page. Keep answers with staff.

Authored paraphrases of real records. Reasons and experiences differed. Migration is not new to Britain; these cases are selected examples.

Access and regulation

Pre-teach terminology and model evidence use. Chunk sources and data; provide an initial frame, then reduce it. Maintain normal access arrangements. Extend by weighing limitations, alternative explanations and evidence quality. Adults support access and evidence selection without supplying answers.

Offer a predictable start, private response and agreed pause. No cold calling or forced personal disclosure. Rejoin at one clearly named next step. Keep teen-appropriate examples and the same learning goal across response modes.

Use sensitive content warnings where relevant. Do not ask for family details or personal experiences.

Assessment

Use questioning and the exit response to decide the next step. Record the learner's individual contribution and the access support used.

UAS: no approved unit code is supplied. Match the learner's evidence to the centre-selected unit and exact criteria before submission. This pack makes no automatic award claim.

Model and answers

Read these pages before teaching. Hide the model during independent assessment.

Question: What is the gap between 1948 and 1972?

Evidence: A 11 May 1948 telegram: The Acting Governor of Jamaica told the Colonial Secretary that men had booked passages hoping for employment in Britain. C 8 August 1972 Cabinet record: British ministers discussed Idi Amin's order that Asian British-passport holders leave Uganda within three months.

Think aloud: 24 years.

Check: Why are linked explanations more useful than dates alone? They explain the changes and the evidence behind them.

Arrival answers

1. No. Distinguish the historical creator from the modern archive.
2. Moving to live in another place
3. 24 years.
4. They explain the changes and the evidence behind them.

Shared activity reasoning

1. 1948 employment hopes — 1. The telegram predates the other records.
2. 1972 expulsion discussed — 2. The Cabinet record concerns forced departure.
3. 1973 visits requested — 3. This is later resettlement support planning.

Exit responses

What is the gap between 1948 and 1972? 24 years.

Why are linked explanations more useful than dates alone? They explain the changes and the evidence behind them.

Teaching and evidence record

Supplied scheme of work teaching sequence: Model one event/date; agree sequence, then create linked or annotated entries explaining changes.

Look for

F: chronology, accurate entries and exit check.

Accept accurate equivalents, including speech or exact scribing. Check the concept and use of evidence rather than length or handwriting. Record access support separately from content prompting.

BUILD: a concrete example with a reason or demonstrated action. GROW: explain or compare with a relevant detail. LAUNCH: connect evidence and reasoning; use a limitation when the outcome requires it. Keep RE responses non-GCSE.

Media

Original captioned teaching model made for this pack. It demonstrates the supplied reasoning; it is not historical footage, survivor testimony or a documentary. The full transcript and factual source credits are included.

Use manual steps for a calm pace. The silent MP4 has visible captions and a matching text transcript. External archive media is optional and should be previewed before class.
