Peace and remembrance / BUILD_A2_W05

Outcome: Reflect on peace and remembrance.

Evidence to retain: F: reflection; monitor regulation and offer a structured break.

Forty minute route

Arrival 4 min; starter 3; model 6; shared task 7; check 2; independent 12; review 3; exit 3.
Pause time is flexible.

Preparation

Choose one independent route. Print the evidence and shared cards, required visual or data sheet, route worksheet and exit. The organiser is one separate A4 page. Keep answers with staff.

Choose a calm symbol, words or a private response. No personal story or public emotional response is required.

Access and regulation

Use one-step instructions, symbols and a model first. Offer talk, point, draw, type or write. Reduce the number of choices; extend by asking for a reason or a second example. Adults prompt the first response then fade support.

Offer a predictable start, private response and agreed pause. No cold calling or forced personal disclosure. Rejoin at one clearly named next step. Keep teen-appropriate examples and the same learning goal across response modes.

Use sensitive content warnings where relevant. Do not ask for family details or personal experiences.

Assessment

Use questioning and the exit response to decide the next step. Record the learner's individual contribution and the access support used.

UAS: no approved unit code is supplied. Match the learner's evidence to the centre-selected unit and exact criteria before submission. This pack makes no automatic award claim.

Model and answers

Read these pages before teaching. Hide the model during independent assessment.

Question: Why might people remember people affected by conflict?

Evidence: A The red poppy: The Royal British Legion describes the red poppy as a symbol of remembrance and hope for a peaceful future. It also shows support for the Armed Forces community.

Think aloud: To recognise lives, loss and experiences and to learn from the past.

Check: What makes a caption respectful and useful? Accurate words, a source and no invented personal account.

Arrival answers

1. Prepare a welcoming space.
2. Taking time to remember people and events
3. To recognise lives, loss and experiences and to learn from the past.
4. Accurate words, a source and no invented personal account.

Shared activity reasoning

Exit responses

Why might people remember people affected by conflict? To recognise lives, loss and experiences and to learn from the past.

What makes a caption respectful and useful? Accurate words, a source and no invented personal account.

Teaching and evidence record

Supplied scheme of work teaching sequence: Use age-appropriate sources and a short remembrance text. Identify why people remember; create a respectful symbol/caption or reflection. Avoid distressing imagery.

Look for

F: reflection; monitor regulation and offer a structured break.

Accept accurate equivalents, including speech or exact scribing. Check the concept and use of evidence rather than length or handwriting. Record access support separately from content prompting.

BUILD: a concrete example with a reason or demonstrated action. GROW: explain or compare with a relevant detail. LAUNCH: connect evidence and reasoning; use a limitation when the outcome requires it. Keep RE responses non-GCSE.

Media

Original captioned teaching model made for this pack. It demonstrates the supplied reasoning; it is not historical footage, survivor testimony or a documentary. The full transcript and factual source credits are included.

Use manual steps for a calm pace. The silent MP4 has visible captions and a matching text transcript. External archive media is optional and should be previewed before class.
