

Teacher card

A person who challenged unfairness / BUILD_S2_W04

Outcome: Recognise people who stood up for fairness linked to International Womens Day.

Evidence to retain: F: accurate contribution and link to fairness.

Forty minute route

Arrival 4 min; starter 3; model 6; shared task 7; check 2; independent 12; review 3; exit 3.

Pause time is flexible.

Preparation

Choose one independent route. Print the evidence and shared cards, required visual or data sheet, route worksheet and exit. The organiser is one separate A4 page. Keep answers with staff.

Use fictional situations. Do not ask learners to disclose neglect, conflict or personal experiences of unfairness.

Access and regulation

Use one-step instructions, symbols and a model first. Offer talk, point, draw, type or write. Reduce the number of choices; extend by asking for a reason or a second example. Adults prompt the first response then fade support.

Offer a predictable start, private response and agreed pause. No cold calling or forced personal disclosure. Rejoin at one clearly named next step. Keep teen-appropriate examples and the same learning goal across response modes.

Use sensitive content warnings where relevant. Do not ask for family details or personal experiences.

Assessment

Use questioning and the exit response to decide the next step. Record the learner's individual contribution and the access support used.

UAS: no approved unit code is supplied. Match the learner's evidence to the centre-selected unit and exact criteria before submission. This pack makes no automatic award claim.

Model and answers

Read these pages before teaching. Hide the model during independent assessment.

Question: What does Malala campaign for?

Evidence: M Malala Yousafzai: Malala campaigns for children's education, especially girls' education. She shared the 2014 Nobel Peace Prize with Kailash Satyarthi.

Think aloud: Children's education, especially girls' education.

Check: What does the 2014 prize show and not show? It recognises her work; it does not prove all education barriers ended.

Arrival answers

1. A clear shelf label, an accessible list or a guided introduction.
2. Giving people a fair chance and meeting needs
3. Children's education, especially girls' education.
4. It recognises her work; it does not prove all education barriers ended.

Shared activity reasoning

1. Campaigning for girls' education — Supported. The Nobel source records this contribution.
2. All education inequality has ended — Not established. An award does not prove that outcome.
3. A contribution can challenge unfairness — Reasoned link. The action aims to widen access to education.

Exit responses

What does Malala campaign for? Children's education, especially girls' education.

What does the 2014 prize show and not show? It recognises her work; it does not prove all education barriers ended.

Teaching and evidence record

Supplied scheme of work teaching sequence: Explore a short biography/source; match actions to changes. Create a contribution card using evidence.

Look for

F: accurate contribution and link to fairness.

Accept accurate equivalents, including speech or exact scribing. Check the concept and use of evidence rather than length or handwriting. Record access support separately from content prompting.

BUILD: a concrete example with a reason or demonstrated action. GROW: explain or compare with a relevant detail. LAUNCH: connect evidence and reasoning; use a limitation when the outcome requires it. Keep RE responses non-GCSE.

Media

Original captioned teaching model made for this pack. It demonstrates the supplied reasoning; it is not historical footage, survivor testimony or a documentary. The full transcript and factual source credits are included.

Use manual steps for a calm pace. The silent MP4 has visible captions and a matching text transcript. External archive media is optional and should be previewed before class.
