A Diwali

Many Hindus, Sikhs and Jains celebrate Diwali. Families light diya lamps. For many the light stands for good overcoming evil.

Source: Authored summary; see Hindu American Foundation, Diwali

Limit: Families celebrate in different ways.

B Hanukkah

Hanukkah is a Jewish festival. It lasts eight nights. Each night one more light is lit on the hanukkiah. It recalls the Temple being rededicated and oil that lasted eight days.

Source: Authored summary; see Chabad, What is Hanukkah

Limit: Jewish families celebrate in different ways.

C Both

Both festivals use light. Both bring families together. Both are linked to stories that matter to the people who celebrate.

Source: Authored classroom resource

Limit: Sharing a feature does not make two festivals the same.

D Comparing fairly

We compare to understand, not to decide which is better. Start with one fact for each celebration.

Source: Authored classroom rules

Limit: A comparison of two festivals leaves out many others.

Shared investigation

1. Sort each feature: Diwali, Hanukkah or both.
2. Say one similarity without calling the festivals the same.

Work with a partner or adult, or use your own table. One person suggests; the other checks the evidence. Swap after one turn. Passing is allowed.
