How beliefs shape identity / GROW_RE_A1_W02

Outcome: Describe one way beliefs can shape a person's identity.

Evidence to retain: F: identity-influence chain for one profile.

Forty minute route

Arrival 4 min; starter 3; model 6; shared task 7; check 2; independent 12; review 3; exit 3.
Pause time is flexible.

Preparation

Choose one independent route. Print the evidence and shared cards, required visual or data sheet, route worksheet and exit. The organiser is one separate A4 page. Keep answers with staff.

Keep examples third-person; support evidence finding; avoid suggesting belief fully determines identity; adult prompts with 'What tells you that?'.

Access and regulation

Colour-coded profile; reduced reading; sentence frame; verbal answer accepted; scribe/typing; extension through explanation rather than length.

Offer a predictable start, private response and agreed pause. No cold calling or forced personal disclosure. Rejoin at one clearly named next step. Keep teen-appropriate examples and the same learning goal across response modes.

This is learning about religion and worldviews, not worship. Nobody is asked to share a personal belief, family detail or loss.

Assessment

Use questioning and the exit response to decide the next step. Record the learner's individual contribution and the access support used.

UAS: no approved unit code is supplied. Match the learner's evidence to the centre-selected unit and exact criteria before submission. This pack makes no automatic award claim.

Model and answers

Read these pages before teaching. Hide the model during independent assessment.

Question: What value does Imran's belief lead to?

Evidence: A Imran's chain: Fictional profile: Imran believes that God asks people to care for those in need. So he values generosity. So he chooses to help at the food bank each week.

Think aloud: Generosity: caring for those in need.

Check: Is belief the only thing that shapes identity? No. Family, friends, place and culture also shape identity.

Arrival answers

1. Any two, for example Christianity and Humanism.
2. Who a person is and how they see themselves
3. Generosity: caring for those in need.
4. No. Family, friends, place and culture also shape identity.

Shared activity reasoning

1. "God asks people to care for those in need." — Belief. It is something Imran holds to be true.
2. Generosity matters to him — Value. It is what he thinks is important.
3. Helps at the food bank each week — Choice. It is what he decides to do.

Exit responses

What value does Imran's belief lead to? Generosity: caring for those in need.

Is belief the only thing that shapes identity? No. Family, friends, place and culture also shape identity.

Teaching and evidence record

Supplied scheme of work teaching sequence: Arrival: 4 retrieval questions from Week 1.
Starter: choose which things can shape identity. I Do: model a fictional profile showing belief → value → choice. We Do: highlight clues showing how belief influences identity. You Do:
complete an identity-influence chain for one profile. Exit ticket: ‘Belief can shape identity by...’.

Look for

F: identity-influence chain for one profile.

Accept accurate equivalents, including speech or exact scribing. Check the concept and use of evidence rather than length or handwriting. Record access support separately from content prompting.

BUILD: a concrete example with a reason or demonstrated action. GROW: explain or compare with a relevant detail. LAUNCH: connect evidence and reasoning; use a limitation when the outcome requires it. Keep RE responses non-GCSE.

Media

Original captioned teaching model made for this pack. It demonstrates the supplied reasoning; it is not historical footage, survivor testimony or a documentary. The full transcript and factual source credits are included.

Use manual steps for a calm pace. The silent MP4 has visible captions and a matching text transcript. External archive media is optional and should be previewed before class.
