Evidence cards D and H

D · Diwali

Many Hindus mark Diwali with lamps, worship and gatherings. Light can express good overcoming evil and knowledge overcoming ignorance. Practices and stories vary.

This Hindu explanation does not cover every Hindu practice or other religions’ observances.

H · Hanukkah

Hanukkah is a Jewish festival lasting eight nights. Lights recall the Temple’s rededication and the traditional account of oil lasting eight days. A hanukkiah has eight festival lights and a helper light.

This explains one Jewish religious perspective; not all Jewish households observe identically.

Evidence cards O and S

O · Objects and meanings

A diya is a small lamp associated with Diwali. A hanukkiah is used at Hanukkah. Ask before touching borrowed objects; use an unlit replica or a drawing.

This example does not describe every person or place.

S · One family’s celebration plan

Fictional Diwali plan: prepare a welcoming space; arrange unlit lamps with an adult; gather for worship; share food and greetings. This is one sequence, not a rule for every family.

This example does not describe every person or place.

Shared investigation

Sort source features into Diwali, Hanukkah or both. Test a claim that all celebrations involving light have the same meaning. Take a turn to suggest a match, then check the evidence.

1. Which feature belongs in both columns?
2. Which source mentions good overcoming evil?
3. Which source links light to the oil tradition?

Worked model

Ask the question

Both accounts describe the use of lights. Use card D. D describes light as good overcoming evil or knowledge overcoming ignorance. H links lights to the Temple and the oil tradition.

Find the evidence

D describes light as good overcoming evil or knowledge overcoming ignorance. H links lights to the Temple and the oil tradition. A feature can be shared while its meaning differs. Each account gives a specific example.

Explain the link

Use “Both accounts describe lights. In card D… In card H…” to separate the comparison from each meaning. Both accounts describe ____. D explains ____. H explains ____.

Check what we know

No. Each account links light to its own traditions and meanings. One account cannot describe every person or household in a community.
