TA brief

Prepare the simple word, colour and image cards described here before the lesson; no external image, named resource or screen interaction is needed. Read pupil wording aloud, one short prompt at a time. All response choices apply to EVERY question, demonstration response, shared task, route, review and Exit: pupils may point, speak, sign, use symbols, draw or write. A pupil may direct an adult to make a mark or move a card. Offer a director role throughout; do not require handling materials or speaking to the group. Never cold call. Any pupil may pass. A pass needs no book entry.

Use one Arrival tier and one Exit tier per pupil. Keep Answer (adult) lines out of pupil view until the response. The three Exit checks are brief choices or short responses, not three extended written answers. Allow private thinking before any shared reveal. An adult may record the pupil's own choice, gesture or exact words. No board copying, cutting or gluing is needed in the timed stages.

Festival context: light and colour are used in some celebrations. People within a tradition may celebrate in different ways. These are original, made-up classroom images for an imagined light display, not sacred images or examples of a named tradition's art. Never ask about a pupil's belief, family, worship or loss. Discuss visible features and possible effects, not personal disclosure. No named artists or artworks are needed.

Materials safety and access: use pencils, pastels or chalk, and coloured and dark paper only; prepared colour and shape cards are enough for this explore lesson. No flames or real lights are used. Keep materials on the work surface and avoid blowing chalk dust. Offer a pencil or a director role if a texture is uncomfortable. Announce a brief count-in before the first visual task; mirror it with a visible gesture, then use the agreed flat-hand STOP cue for a pause. A pupil can pause in a quiet place without explaining why. Give large images and read the exact descriptions; label colours as well as showing them. Note when a response uses the description or labels, and do not treat colour discrimination or fine motor control as the art understanding being assessed.

Kit and stimulus — complete adult image cues: Make three equal plain rectangular images, labelled A, B and C, with no people, text within the image or named objects. A: a very dark blue ground; one central horizontal row of six evenly spaced marks, reading left to right as yellow ring / orange dot / yellow ring / orange dot / yellow ring / orange dot. Each ring is a clear yellow circle outline with dark ground visible in its centre; each dot is a solid orange circle. Make the marks the same outer size, with clear dark gaps. B: exactly the same ground, shapes, sizes, spacing and order as A, but use bright light blue for each ring and bright light green for each dot. C: exactly the same marks, colours, sizes, spacing and order as A, but on a pale yellow ground. Make the yellow rings close in colour and lightness to C's ground, so their outlines are less distinct than on A. Check the actual paper examples before teaching; their yellow rings must clearly show this difference. Prepare word cards that each show the word and its meaning: WARM (red, orange, yellow), COOL (blue, green), CONTRAST (a difference that helps a mark stand out), PATTERN (an arrangement of marks; ours repeat) and REPEAT (use a mark again); and DARK / PALE and SAME / DIFFERENT cards. Colour cards: red, orange, yellow, blue and green, each with its written label. In this lesson red, orange and yellow are warm colours; blue and green are cool colours. These are art groupings, not a measure of temperature. A small dark-paper sample and the same mark-making colours allow a pupil to test a chosen pair of marks, or direct the adult to test it.

Adult-only EHCP note: Possible outcome areas are communication and interaction; cognition and learning; sensory and physical access; social, emotional and mental health. Link observations only to an actual individual target; do not infer an outcome from participation alone. Regulation strategy: use the announced count-in and visible STOP cue, with an agreed silent return to the next small task if the pupil needs a pause.

TA brief

Same-day evidence — ART-GROW-A2-W01-P1: The assigned adult records one chosen book item or a brief observation of the pupil's own response, response mode and actual prompt used, and uploads it to the evidence app the same day, labelled ART-GROW-A2-W01-P1. Keep the coded book item, with a photo where useful, in the pupil's Explore log; a photo needs the accompanying observation; a photo alone does not show understanding. Do not require a public display.

1. Prepare A–C exactly, with labelled colour and art-word cards, so pupils can compare the same features through images or descriptions.

2. Use safe materials and predictable count-in/STOP cues; directing is available on every route and any pupil may pass.

3. Give private decision time before the We do reveal; note the pupil’s own comparison rather than a repeated group answer.

4. Keep warm/cool grouping, light-dark contrast and repetition distinct; treat effect words as reasoned interpretations, not fixed emotional facts.

5. Record a chosen feature, its reason and actual support; help the pupil make one precise review change and upload the evidence to the evidence app the same day, labelled ART-GROW-A2-W01-P1.

Arrival · 5 minutes

Adult note: Show A and B, using the exact image cues in the shared notes. Read their colour labels and show the WARM, COOL, PATTERN and REPEAT cards, which give each word and its meaning. Show C beside A for the background comparison. Images A–C and the word and colour cards are supplied clues, not a test of prior learning. Use one tier; a pupil may base their response on the descriptions and labelled cards instead of colour discrimination.

Starter · 3 minutes

Adult note: Read the three options; pupils choose privately before sharing. These invented images let us explore choices, not describe what all people or traditions do. Keep B's bright blue and green marks visible. Keep the WARM / COOL and PATTERN cards in view.

TA brief

I do · 6 minutes

Adult note: Four minutes for the demonstrations and two for vocabulary/check. Use A–C exactly as specified. Point to each named feature. Place A beside B, then A beside C, so only the stated comparison is in view.

We do · 8 minutes

Adult note: Two minutes for the guided example, four for all-pupil comparisons and two for a choice. Give each pupil the A–C image cards or read their descriptions beside the colour cards. Every pupil decides before a shared reveal. An adult/volunteer moves the shared cards; no pupil must handle materials or speak publicly.

You do · 15 minutes

Adult note: Two minutes to choose the route and response mode, eleven to compare and explore, final two to review one reason. A–C remain visible; the adult can read or show their exact features again. Each route is a complete task. A pupil can direct mark-making or compare cards throughout. Read the response against the 'Today I can' points, name one precise success and the change to make, and give one next step; mark a short margin code on any written piece ([WS] worked with support, [I] independent); invite one change in any response mode.

the adult marks I (Independent), S (Supported) or C (Choice) and records actual support. For Aspire, record I or S according to the support used.

Exit ticket · 3 minutes

Adult note: Use one tier. Keep A–C available and invite three concise responses, not a new artwork.

TA brief · feedback and prompt ladder

Prompt ladder for adults

1. Point to the relevant place / instruction.
2. Ask one short question: "What is it asking you to find?"
3. Rephrase the instruction in simpler language.
4. Provide a scaffold or limited choice.
5. Model the first step only, then return the task to the pupil.

No cold calling; nobody is asked to read difficult text aloud.

Space: allow quiet thinking and a private response.

Feedback [VF] [NS]: model the next art technique.

Voice: keep the pupil's make, Explore-log photo and comment.

Audience: record the comment, listen to any clip in full before tagging, and name one next technique [NS]; mark [R] after receipt.

Influence: use the Explore log to select the next technique or scaffold.

Use [WS] for supported work and [I] for independent work. Use [?] to invite a read-back and [//] for a self-edit.

Evidence [E] · ART-GROW-A2-W01-P1: the assigned adult uploads the selected book item, artwork photo with its observation, or exact response to the evidence app the same day, labelled ART-GROW-A2-W01-P1. Capture is not closure; a photo alone does not establish understanding.

Staff: mark I, S or C beside the You do response for actual independence, support or choice.
