Theme Friendships and relationships. Five week term from 22 February to 25 March 2027.

Thread tags: SMSC S/So; British Values IL/MR. Other tags not claimed.

Exact outcome

Identify features of positive friendships and relationships.

GROW Weekly Spring row 70 C70. Exact outcome checked against the scheme. The owner supplies date, period, group and five week calendar. This lesson is formative.

Purpose

Identify one green and one amber action in the invented scene. Give a reason for each. Suggest a respectful next step and a trusted adult help route. Judge actions in context, not a whole person. All scenes are invented, mild and offline. Do not ask for a real friendship, relationship or experience.

Cover preparation

Read Staff Answers. Prepare books, printed behaviour cards and flag words, the glossary and usual aids. Offer the typed Evidence Sheet if useful. Agree private help and the supervised pause route with an available adult before teaching. Follow the same invented scene and choices if covering.

Forty minute sequence

Phase	Time	Action
Arrival and starter	0–5	Settle, agree help and pause; choose a helpful action or give its reason.
Input	5–10	Teach positive friendship, green and amber meanings; actions and context, not labels for people.
Model and guided work	10–17	Model the invented scene; sort six behaviour cards with reasons or improve advice.
Private hinge and choice	17–22	Check each action matters; choose map or note and usual response mode.
Individual task	22–34	Scene map or advice note about the same invented scene; include optional private keep card.
Review	34–38	Use shared checks; one next step and pupil response.
Private exit	38–40	Explain a respectful step or repair a friendship myth. Confirm help.

Total 40 minutes. Processing time and short quiet pauses sit inside these phases. Choices B and C share one task period. The private keep card is optional, not an extra assessed task.

Where this leads

This helps me work with others, respect choices and ask for support in a group or future work.

Teaching and response routes

Starter choices

Choose a helpful invented action: listening to a request or always choosing for both people. Or explain why accepting a no can show respect. Use the made-up learner only.

Input

A positive friendship has care and respect. People can have different likes and other friends. They listen, ask before sharing and respect a no. One kind act does not prove that every part of a friendship is safe. Green shows care or respect. Amber means pause, check and ask for help. Judge actions, not whole people. Amber never means put up with harm; unsafe concerns need an adult at once.

One invented scene

Two invented young people plan a quiet craft task. One asks to use a drawing. The other says no. The first person accepts this and chooses a new idea. Later one keeps choosing each next step without asking. The other wants a fair turn to choose. No names, personal details or unkind words are shown.

Visible model

Accepting no is a green flag because it respects choice. Choosing every step without asking is an amber flag because both people need a say. They could pause and agree a turn each, or ask school staff to help. Judge each action; one green action does not cancel the amber concern.

Guided choices

Sort the six behaviour cards into Green and Amber with reasons. Or improve the advice One kind act means everything is fine. Keep both flag words visible so colour is not needed. Model one reason, then reduce answer cues while keeping the visible model and usual aids.

Two equal main choices

Choose scene map B or advice note C about the same scene. Both identify a green and an amber action with reasons, a respectful next step and a trusted adult help route. A map may be a list; a note needs no extra length. Both use books, typing, aids or exact scribing. No public talk or compulsory role play.

Supported

Use either task with the word bank, starter and two action choices if needed. Keep usual aids, pointing, typing or exact scribe with readback.

Independent

Explain both actions with reasons, a respectful step and help route. Keep the visible model and usual aids.

Aspire

Explain why a green action cannot cancel a concern. Judge actions, not people, and adapt the next step if it is not respected.

Private keep card

Offer the optional pupil kept card during individual work. Blank, fictional or pass is valid. Do not collect, photograph, display, compare or copy it. Never press for details. Assess only the fictional task.

Point to the place or instruction. Ask a short private question. Rephrase. Offer a scaffold or choice. Model the first step only, then return the task. Allow time. Record answer cues apart from usual access.

Checks and planned access

Main private hinge

One kind act happens, then a clear no is ignored. What should the learner judge? A The kind act means every action is safe. B Judge each action and ask for help about the ignored no. C Label the whole person with a colour. D Keep quiet because friends must always agree. Check privately. B or safe equivalent with a reason: proceed. A treats one act as proof; C labels a person; D removes choice. Re-model using the invented scene, then use parallel A. Pass or no response is unobserved; revisit with support, not a failure label.

Parallel check

A friend keeps choosing without asking. A Pause and seek a fair turn or trusted adult help. B Accept it because amber means harmless. Correct A. A fair turn or adult help is a safe next route. A pass is unobserved.

Questions in private

F Which action shows respect? M Why is choosing every step without asking an amber action? H Why does one green action not cancel a concern? Use words, a note, pointing or a usual aid. No public questioning.

Misconceptions

Green and amber describe actions, not whole people. One kind act cannot prove every action is safe. Amber never means harmless or put up with harm. Friends can have different likes and other friends. A clear no should be respected.

Planned adaptations

Cognition and Learning: one part at a time, visible model and short choices. Communication and Interaction: wait time, aid, typing or exact scribe with quiet readback. SEMH: predictable mild scene, private response, pass, neutral task and supervised pause. Sensory and Physical: clear print, written flag labels, comfortable position and usual aids. EAL: explain the key words and plan in any language.

TA focus

Input: model care, respect and the two flag labels. Guided work: offer a card sort or advice repair. Independent: check chosen work privately, record actual aids and answer cues, acknowledge pause signals and keep supervision. Do not fill missing answers or press for a personal story.

Evidence cover and private support

Evidence judgement

Use fictional work only. Check both action judgements and reasons, the respectful next step and help route. Keep partial work and actual prompts. A pass is unobserved. A story answer does not prove a real friendship is safe. The private keep card is not evidence.

Review and exit

Use shared checks or improve Green means every action is safe. Set one precise NS and retain the reply. Exit: give a respectful step or correct Amber means harmless. The learning self-check is Ready to explain / With a prompt / Need another example. It does not rate wellbeing or any real relationship.

Feedback and portfolio

Retain actual fictional learning evidence, usual access and content prompts. Set one NS and allow a reply in the same colour, on the same page or usual mode. E only for actual saved work. R only after Voice, Audience, one NS and an actual pupil response. Offer to the Communication portfolio; staff confirm any mapping. Personal keep cards and real concerns are not learning evidence. Any offer for the unit award depends on staff checking actual evidence and current requirements.

Non specialist cover

Use only the supplied definitions, cards and invented scene. If display or typing fails, read the cards with a book, aid or scribe. No phone, internet, real message, image or personal story is needed. Do not ask learners to score real people or compare relationships. If someone feels unsafe, get adult help at once; do not wait to finish the sort.

Private help

Ask a trusted adult or school staff in private. Use words, a note, HELP or a usual aid. Staff can take a concern to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. If one adult is unavailable or help is not enough, ask another trusted adult. For an immediate safety concern, get adult help at once. No named service, organisation, website or phone number is needed.

Discreet step out

Before teaching, agree the discreet HELP or PAUSE signal and familiar supervised place and route. Staff acknowledge it quietly and keep adult support. No public reason is needed. Offer a neutral task, supported return or private catch-up. Do not send a learner away alone. Pass is not failure.

Safeguarding

Any disclosure goes to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. Listen calmly, reassure, do not probe, investigate or promise secrecy. Follow urgent school procedures for immediate concerns. Keep real concerns and identifying details in the separate safeguarding record, not learning evidence. A pupil unable to identify a trusted adult is supported privately, not pressed.
