Decide act and tell

Use only made-up scenes. A safe choice respects people and avoids adding harm. A trusted adult can help choose.

Decide

Think about a safe choice and why it fits. A trusted adult can help make the choice.

Act

Choose a safe step, phrase or request. A pause or asking an adult is an action too. No one must confront a person or solve harm alone.

Tell

Ask a trusted adult or school staff in private when help is needed. Say what the concern is and ask what will happen next. If help is not enough, ask another trusted adult.

Decide, act and tell are prompts, not a fixed order. If unsafe or unsure, tell a trusted adult first. There is no need to try a phrase, resolve a problem or collect proof before help. Staff use the safeguarding lead through school procedure.

Visible model A

A fair turn plan can let both use the shape. I would like us to agree a turn. They could listen and use a swap cue, or ask staff to help. Ask trusted school staff for help if they cannot agree or feel unsure. Can we talk in private? We need help with a fair turn plan.

Your work

Choose a map/list or three short notes. Both formats cover all three scenes. Give a choice and reason, safe action or phrase, and trusted-adult help route for each. Help can be the first step.

Three made up scenes

A A turn with a shared card shape

Two invented learners want the same card shape for a small display. Both need a short turn. One learner wants help to agree whose turn comes next.

In an invented group chat, a learner is asked to pass on a photo of another learner's work. They do not know if that learner agreed. No real photo, message or account is shown.

C A fair way to join the group task

An invented group plans a small display. One learner wants everyone to write. Another would like to draw or use their usual aid. The group has not yet heard each idea.

Thinking prompts

What safe choice fits, and why? What safe step or phrase could help? Who could the learner tell in private? If unsure, telling a trusted adult first is valid. No proof, confrontation or copied content is needed.

Model for a safe share

The learner can pause and ask before sharing. If unsure, they can tell trusted school staff first. A group request or private setting does not make every share safe.

Help and a quiet pause

A private opener

Can we talk in private? I need help with a choice or concern. Use words, a note, HELP or your usual aid.

If help is not enough

Ask another trusted adult through the agreed route. Ask what will happen next and when to check back. For an urgent safety concern get adult help at once.

Pause card

I would like to use my agreed pause.
Show this card or use your usual signal. Staff support the familiar supervised route. No public reason is needed. Do not go off alone. Return with support, use a calm task or catch up in private.

Tell first

Decide, act and tell can happen in a different order. If unsafe or unsure, tell a trusted adult first. You never have to try a phrase, face harm or get proof before help.

Any optional personal card stays with you. Do not add real names, account details or private events. Leave blank, use a made-up learner or pass. Do not hand in a private card.

Staff: do not collect, photograph, display or compare private cards. Any disclosure goes to the safeguarding lead through school procedure. Support a pupil who cannot identify an adult; do not press.

All three scenes same checks

For all three made-up scenes, give a safe choice and a reason, a safe action or phrase, and a private trusted-adult help route. Tell first if unsafe or unsure. Improve one response after feedback. Choose a map/list or three notes. Use a book, Type instead, an aid or exact scribe.

A help route

Ask a trusted adult or school staff in private. Staff use the safeguarding lead when needed. No real personal story is required. Pass or the agreed supported pause is valid.
