

Strengths with evidence

Autumn 1 · Lesson 1 · How can we recognise a strength and help it grow?

Name (optional): _____ Date: _____

Show your ideas by writing, drawing, pointing or speaking. An adult can record your words.

You may use a fictional character. You can pass on a personal question and still practise the skill.

1 · Notice the evidence

Use the three fictional examples. Match a strength and explain one choice.

- Mina checks with an adult after noticing a missing recipe step.
- Eli listens to two ideas and draws a new design combining them.
- Rob returns a borrowed tool and explains where it is.
- Word bank: checking carefully · listening · creativity · responsibility · help-seeking

2 · Make feedback useful

Read both comments about Jay's plan. Choose useful feedback, rewrite the other comment and suggest help if put-downs continue.

- A: "The arrows overlap. Leave a gap between the steps."
- B: "You always make a mess."
- Sentence frame: "A useful comment would be ____ because ____."

My learning record

Lesson 1 · Continue your thinking

3 · A next step with support

Choose Eli, Mina, Rob or a private example. Plan a small action, support and a way to check it.

- Eli wants the new design to be easier to explain. Mina wants to check a whole recipe. Rob wants to organise a tool tray.
- My character: _____. Their step: _____. Support: _____. I would check: _____.

Useful words

strength: A skill or quality someone can use and develop. / evidence: An example that supports an idea. / feedback: Information that can help someone review their work. / next step: A small action to try next.

Exit check

Give a strength and evidence for Jay, who asked for a diagram and changed a bridge base.

My next step

One thing I can practise or improve:

Adult record: response method _____ support _____ evidence _____

Feelings, clues and asking for support

Autumn 1 · Lesson 2 · How can someone describe a feeling without us guessing for them?

Name (optional): _____ Date: _____

Show your ideas by writing, drawing, pointing or speaking. An adult can record your words.

You may use a fictional character. You can pass on a personal question and still practise the skill.

1 · More than one possible feeling

Read the fictional situations. Choose a possible feeling and explain a clue. Add an alternative for one.

- Ari is waiting to perform a song.
- Noor's game file does not open after three attempts.
- Lea finishes a task they found difficult.
- Words: excited · nervous · frustrated · proud · relieved · disappointed · unsure

2 · Sort what the words tell us

Label each as feeling, action or support need. Then add a helpful next response.

- "I am worried."
 - "I shut the book."
 - "Please show me the first step."
 - A helpful adult response could be: ____.

My learning record

Lesson 2 · Continue your thinking

3 · A message that can be understood

Choose a scenario and create a spoken, written, drawn or device-based help message.

- A: Ari does not know where the changed rehearsal will take place.
- B: Toni feels unwell during a task.
- C: Dev is worried most days and does not know why.
- Frame: “I need help with _____. Could you _____?” A feeling word is optional.

Useful words

feeling: An emotional experience, such as worry or excitement. / clue: Something we notice that may help us understand. / uncertain: Not sure yet. / support: Help that responds to someone's needs.

Exit check

Why can a racing heart not tell us exactly how Ari feels?

My next step

One thing I can practise or improve:

Adult record: response method _____ support _____ evidence _____

Belonging and having a say

Autumn 1 · Lesson 3 · How can a group help people belong and take their views seriously?

Name (optional): _____ Date: _____

Show your ideas by writing, drawing, pointing or speaking. An adult can record your words.

You may use a fictional character. You can pass on a personal question and still practise the skill.

1 · Improve the club

Use the fictional club details to make one access change and explain why it helps.

- Asha likes drawing. Ben likes building. Casey likes planning and prefers written messages.
- The club meets in a noisy room and takes spoken ideas only.
- Change: _____. This helps because _____. One question to ask members: _____.

2 · Different situations, different responses

Choose discussion with choice, access change, or adult action. Explain one choice.

- A: Two pupils disagree about red or yellow flowers.
 - B: The only instructions are too small for a member to read.
 - C: A member is repeatedly threatened and told they cannot join because of their race.

My learning record

Lesson 3 · Continue your thinking

3 · A suggestion that is heard

Plan a written idea board for the club, using the four elements.

- Space: when and where can members think and offer views safely?
- Voice: what information and response choices are available?
- Audience: who can decide about the club format?
- Influence: how will members hear the decision, reasons and review date?

Useful words

belonging: Feeling accepted and included in a group. / diversity: Differences among people, experiences and ways of living. / inclusion: Making it possible for people to participate. / influence: Views receive serious consideration and a response.

Exit check

Why is a suggestion box alone not enough for meaningful participation?

My next step

One thing I can practise or improve:

Adult record: response method _____ support _____ evidence _____

Regulation: finding helpful support

Autumn 1 · Lesson 4 · How can a person find support that helps, and change it when needed?

Name (optional): _____ Date: _____

Show your ideas by writing, drawing, pointing or speaking. An adult can record your words.

You may use a fictional character. You can pass on a personal question and still practise the skill.

1 · Match support to the situation

Choose one possible option and one adult/environment change for each character.

- Rowan finds the room noise too much and asks for a written instruction.
- Alex feels restless after a long seated activity and wants to keep working.
- Menu: quieter seat · written first step · safe movement · supportive adult nearby · short drawing pause · agreed focus tool

2 · A plan with shared responsibility

Make a flexible plan for Rowan or Alex. A private personal plan is optional.

- When/if: _____. The person may choose: _____.
 - The adult can: _____.
 - How to request it: _____.
 - Review: helpful / unchanged / unhelpful / unsure. What next? _____.

My learning record

Lesson 4 · Continue your thinking

3 · Review without blame

Read the trial report and suggest a change.

- Rowan tries sketching. The room remains noisy. Rowan says, “I still cannot follow the task.”
- What did the trial tell us? What could the adult change? When can Rowan ask for more help?

Useful words

regulation: Support for managing energy, feelings and attention. / strategy: An action someone may try. / co-regulation: Support from another person to help someone manage. / review: Check what helped and decide what to change.

Exit check

Why might changing the room help more than asking Rowan to calm down?

My next step

One thing I can practise or improve:

Adult record: response method _____ support _____ evidence _____

Trusted help and safe choices

Autumn 1 · Lesson 5 · How can someone get help, including when the first person is unavailable?

Name (optional): _____ Date: _____

Show your ideas by writing, drawing, pointing or speaking. An adult can record your words.

You may use a fictional character. You can pass on a personal question and still practise the skill.

1 · Safer adult behaviour

Choose the response that supports safety. Explain the concern in the other response.

- A: "I am glad you told me. I will help you reach the right person."
- B: "Keep this secret so I do not get into trouble."
- What makes A helpful? What could the child do after B?

2 · Match a support route

Use the printed service cards. Choose a sensible first route for each fictional concern; more than one may be suitable.

- A: Nico wants to talk to someone about a worry outside school.
 - B: Jo wants help with an ongoing health concern.
 - C: A young person is worried about online sexual grooming.
 - D: Someone is in immediate danger.

My learning record

Lesson 5 · Continue your thinking

3 · A first and backup request

Nico wants help with a worrying message. Ms Green is not immediately available. Plan a private request and an available backup. All names are fictional.

- Request by speaking, note, symbol or device: ____.
- First route: Ms Green or the school pastoral team. Backup: another available adult or the safeguarding lead.
- If it is urgent, Nico can say/show: _____. The adult should: _____.

Useful words

trusted adult: An adult whose behaviour supports safety and takes concerns seriously. / support network: People and services someone can approach for help. / private: Shared with care, rather than with everyone. / urgent: Needing attention straight away.

Exit check

What can someone do if the first adult has not helped?

My next step

One thing I can practise or improve:

Adult record: response method _____ support _____ evidence _____

Kindness, fairness and boundaries

Autumn 1 · Lesson 6 · How can we act fairly while respecting people's choices and safety?

Name (optional): _____ Date: _____

Show your ideas by writing, drawing, pointing or speaking. An adult can record your words.

You may use a fictional character. You can pass on a personal question and still practise the skill.

1 · Sort and improve

Label each action respectful, harmful or needs a check. Explain how one could change.

- A: Offer a spare pencil and wait for an answer.
- B: Share an embarrassing photo without permission.
- C: Move someone's model to help, without asking.
- D: Accept "no, thank you" after an invitation.

2 · Judgement and treatment

Read the fictional design-club case and identify two different problems.

- A member assumes that pupils with a disability cannot have good design ideas.
 - They refuse to include a pupil with a disability in the planning group.
 - Prejudice in this case: _____. Discriminatory treatment: _____. A safe help route: _____.

My learning record

Lesson 6 · Continue your thinking

3 · Make a fairer response

The leader says, “I will just ask everyone to be nice.” Add a practical response that changes the problem.

- Immediate support for the excluded pupil: ____.
- Adult action about the harmful treatment: ____.
- A lasting access change for the club: ____.
- How the pupil’s views will be heard without forced contact: ____.

Useful words

kindness: Considerate words or actions that respect another person. / boundary: A limit someone sets about what they want or accept. / prejudice: An unfair judgement about people based on assumptions about their identity or group. / discrimination: Unfair treatment linked to who someone is or is assumed to be.

Exit check

Why is “I was trying to be kind” not a reason to ignore someone’s no?

My next step

One thing I can practise or improve:

Adult record: response method _____ support _____ evidence _____

All About Me: a private celebration of learning

Autumn 1 · Lesson 7 · What can we now explain, and what would help our next step?

Name (optional): _____ Date: _____

Show your ideas by writing, drawing, pointing or speaking. An adult can record your words.

You may use a fictional character. You can pass on a personal question and still practise the skill.

1 · Recall and repair

Choose the accurate statement and correct the others. You can point, speak, draw or write.

- A: "You must try every strategy before asking for support."
- B: "A smile tells us exactly how someone feels."
- C: "A kind offer leaves room for a no."

2 · Six panels with evidence

Use the complete Morgan profile on the resource sheet, or choose an optional private personal example. Complete one short idea plus evidence or a safe next action for each theme.

- Strengths: a skill or quality and the action showing it.
- Feelings: a possible feeling, the clue and a reason to leave uncertainty.
- Belonging: an access change and how the decision should be reported back.
- Regulation: a chosen support, an adult action and a review.
- Support: a help request and another route if the first adult is unavailable.
- Kindness: an offer or fair action that respects a boundary.

Use the six-panel review pages at the end of this booklet for Task 2.

My learning record

Lesson 7 · Continue your thinking

3 · Review and choose a next step

Improve one panel, then plan a small next step for Morgan or yourself. Personal work may remain private.

- One improvement I made to an answer: ____.
- Next step: _____. Support needed: _____. How to check it: ____.
- Optional unit feedback for the teacher: _____.
- Sharing choice: private / selected part with an adult / selected non-personal display / decide later.

Useful words

reflection: Thinking about learning and what may help next. / evidence: An example supporting a claim. / choice: An option someone is free to select or decline. / progress: A change in understanding or skill, which can include using support.

Exit check

What makes a next step useful, and who can help it happen?

My next step

One thing I can practise or improve:

Adult record: response method _____ support _____ evidence _____

WEEK 7 / TASK 2

Six-panel review

Part 1 of 2 · Use Morgan's fictional profile or an optional private example.

Give one accurate idea and evidence or a safe next action for each theme. Speaking, pointing, drawing and scribing are equally valid.

Strengths

Name a skill or quality. Give the action that shows it.

Feelings

Suggest a possible feeling, the clue, and a reason to leave uncertainty.

Belonging

Suggest an access change and explain how the decision should be reported.

WEEK 7 / TASK 2

Six-panel review

Part 2 of 2 · Use Morgan's fictional profile or an optional private example.

Give one accurate idea and evidence or a safe next action for each theme. Speaking, pointing, drawing and scribing are equally valid.

Regulation

Choose possible support, an adult action and a way to review it.

Support

Write a help request and another route if the first adult is unavailable.

Kindness

Give an offer or fair action that respects a boundary.
