

Knowledge Organiser (GROW ASDAN W2): Choose the Need

GROW · ASDAN Studio · Community Project · Banks: ASDAN PEQ Entry 3 cross-unit project work (goal set) · UAS community evidence

Key Word	Definition
REAL	There is evidence, not just an opinion.
DOABLE	Within our skills, our term and our budget.
LASTING	The benefit outlives the project.
SHORTLIST	The few options left after the tests.

Key Facts

- Choosing well beats choosing fast.
- Banks: ASDAN PEQ Entry 3 cross-unit project work (goal set) · UAS community evidence
- Pupil voice: Say your choice and the test it passed. Reasons before votes.
- What it changes: The need chosen on this board is the project. There is no second vote.
- Launch extension: one written line — who benefits first when this project lands.

This week's spark

Choosing well beats choosing fast.

ASDAN evidence

Documentarian photo + annotation + witness tick — ASDAN PEQ Entry 3 cross-unit project work (goal set) · UAS community evidence.

Arrival Task

1) Which need got the most pins last week?

2) Which need could WE realistically meet?

3) Point to the board — the shortlist lives there.

Today at a Glance

Key Question: What are we building today — and where does the evidence go?

We Do 1: Match it up

Litter piling on the beck path, Nowhere to sit at the bus stop, Care home wants young visitors, Food bank short on stock

We Do 2: Which Need Passes the Test?

Draw lines to match:

Litter piling on the beck path · Nowhere to sit at the bus stop · Care home wants young visitors · Food bank short on stock

Three of us asked users — all said yes · The manager's written invitation · Photo survey logged 40+ items · Their October appeal poster

Scaffolding – Supported

Access & sensory notes (staff)

- The supported task today is: Use the picture ballot to weigh two needs with support, then cast your vote and say one reason.
- Fine motor: offer the chunky-grip pen, and accept a card sort or a spoken answer scribed by an adult — the judgement is the evidence, not the handwriting. A sorted card layout photographs as well as a written sheet.
- Sensory: Anything off-site or on a walk is the loud part. Ear defenders out before you leave the room, not after — and whoever needs it goes in the first pair, before group noise builds.
- Cognitive load: a completed small piece beats a half-done large one at moderation. Cut the target, never the thinking.
- Ring the level honestly on the witness sheet. Supported with the work finished is a stronger portfolio entry than Standard with it abandoned.

GROW · ASDAN Studio · Community Project · Banks: ASDAN PEQ Entry 3 cross-unit project work (goal set) · UAS community evidence

Candidate name
Date of activity
Activity witnessed	Choose the Need

1 · What I actually saw this candidate do

Name the observable action, not the worksheet. Write what a stranger would have seen from the doorway.

2 · Level the candidate worked at — ring ONE

SUPPORTED Use the picture ballot to weigh two needs with support, then cast your vote and say one reason.	STANDARD Score the shortlisted needs on the three tests, vote with reasons first, and record the chosen goal on the board.	STRETCH Our chosen need in one sentence a stranger would understand — write it. Which test would our chosen need fail FIRST if things go wrong, and what protects it?

Prompts given (if any):

3 · Evidence attached

☐ Dated photograph ☐ Candidate's written annotation ☐ Completed sheet ☐ Other:

4 · Assessor declaration

I confirm the work described above was produced by the named candidate, and that the level ringed reflects the support actually given on the day.

Lundy Loop — this lesson

Space → Voice → Audience → Influence. The adult's first job is Space: regulate before you educate.

Space	The Green-Light Board is real-stakes but safe — nothing goes up without your say-so, 'pass' is allowed, and outvoted voices stay respected.
Voice	Say your choice and the test it passed. Reasons before votes.
Audience	The outvoted are heard here too — the board records the reasons, not just the winner.
Influence	The need chosen on this board is the project. There is no second vote.

Closing the loop: this one ends on paper — your own hand, or your words scribed by an adult. Saying it aloud starts the loop; writing it is what closes it. Pass is always allowed.
