Hinge and task checks

The guide says two cups. You see one. What next?

Use the guide to find the missing part, then correct it.

Correct sequence: Read it all. / Place the tray. / Add cups and spoon. / Check the guide.

The task is a paper model of a service tray. I read to the end before I place a card. The standard is one tray, two cups above it and a spoon to the right. I count two cups and check the spoon. This is rehearsal, not food work.

I can follow the steps with help.

I can use the guide to check the finished model.

I can explain which instruction a change must follow.

Misconceptions

Checking means asking whether it looks nice. Correction: Count the named parts and compare their places with the guide.

You should guess an unclear step. Correction: Stop and ask before going on.

An error means the whole task failed. Correction: Spotting and fixing an error is a useful work skill.

Accept a different defensible example if the pupil links it to the task. Record a pass as a pass; never guess an answer or outcome.
