Today I can

I can find or make a genuine dated entry.

I can explain what I did and the help I used.

I can choose evidence and a safe audience to share it.

Prepare

For up to five pupils: available arts logs, books and pencils.

Access only each pupil's permitted records. Cover identifying details when sharing.

Adult model audit page clearly labelled Teacher model only.

No recording device, costume, prop or internet is required.

Cover route

Gather available arts logs. Model clear, needs a note and missing using an adult sample. Pupils audit up to three real items, select one and plan a safe share. If work is unavailable, use the folded-sheet two-pose drama and make a witnessed record dated today. Use the seven stage times and do not assume prior attendance.

Arrival 3 minutes

Say: Today we review real evidence before sharing it. A missing log is a gap to plan for, not a reason to invent an entry. You choose the audience. No one has to explain a personal experience.

Look for: Pupils have an agreed audience option and access to old logs or a fresh route.

Fallback: Adult offers a clean page and a short invented drama task.

Check and response: Work present today can be reviewed. Work that cannot be found is recorded as unavailable, not completed.

Starter 3 minutes

Say: A title alone does not show what the maker did. A dated note such as I directed a two-pose story tells us more. We can add a confirmed explanation today without changing the old date.

Look for: Pupil distinguishes a claim from evidence and identifies one helpful detail.

Fallback: Read two short oral examples and offer shows my choice / does not show it yet.

Check and response: A real record with a date, contribution and pupil explanation is stronger than a blank page or model answer. A new explanation uses today's date.

I do 6 minutes

Say: This invented adult sample has a drama plan and a dated note. I can tell who chose the pause and why. I mark it clear. This blank page needs evidence. This claim of a show has no record; I mark missing. These samples cannot become your evidence. I read the lost prop and new plan cards as invented performance examples only.

Look for: Adult models an honest audit, explains source/date and keeps examples separate.

Fallback: Use three spoken labels with one adult sample at a time.

Check and response: Clear means enough detail to understand a real contribution; needs a note means a real item exists but lacks explanation; missing means no item is available. Check with one item before independent sorting.

We do 6 minutes

Say: We can use an adult sample if no pupil wants to share. Read the record, ask the maker for permission and check its meaning. We do not guess that everyone attended. If it needs a note, the maker gives words we can confirm.

Look for: Group applies the audit questions without inventing attendance, intentions or work.

Fallback: Use only the fictional adult sample. Pupil chooses the audit category and a useful question.

Check and response: If the contribution is unclear, ask the maker once. If still unclear, mark needs a note. If no real record exists, use today's fresh task rather than recreate an old claim.

Create 14 minutes

Say: Use your existing arts log if available. Keep original dates and add new notes with today's date. Select rather than decorate. For a fresh route, make or direct a two-pose story: a folded sheet will not fit; a new fold makes it fit. Try a pause and choose the clearer version. I witness the actual contribution. Then plan a share for Wednesday.

Look for: Each pupil selects genuine evidence or makes a witnessed fresh drama entry, confirms a contribution and identifies a feasible next step.

Fallback: Adult reads available records one at a time. Pupil points to one real choice. If none is available, direct the adult's two poses and confirm a dated observation.

Check and response: Fresh example only: I directed the second pose and chose a pause to show the plan changed. Do not label it as a past lesson or live arts encounter.

Review 5 minutes

Say: Share a small real detail privately or with a peer. The viewer asks a question, not a judgement. Confirm what was understood. Save the selected item and the audit note; use the last two minutes to reset the space.

Look for: Pupil explains an actual contribution and confirms the viewer's reading.

Fallback: Adult reads the pupil-confirmed note aloud and records whether sharing occurred.

Check and response: An explanation can be spoken, signed, sketched or scribed. Record a private share accurately; if declined, keep sharing as a future step.

Exit 3 minutes

Say: Keep the item reference, actual date, your words and the help used. A gap can stay open. Our record shows what happened, rather than claiming the award is finished.

Look for: Evidence index separates available items, missing items and today's new work.

Fallback: Offer one item code and one short confirmed phrase.

Check: Example only: Item one is my three-part plan. It shows I chose the ending. My next step is to explain why I chose it.

Evidence and review

Keep the actual story plan, dated observation and pupil-confirmed arts-log words. Record the contribution and help used. A photograph or recording is optional and follows local consent procedures. Model examples are never entered as pupil evidence.

Misconceptions

A finished-looking page proves participation - Check a real contribution, date and pupil-confirmed explanation. Decoration alone is not evidence.

Everyone must have the same past work - Do not assume attendance. Audit what exists and offer today's fresh witnessed task.

We should fill a gap with the teacher model - A model is only an example. Keep the gap open or collect new actual work with today's date.

Sharing the portfolio means the award is complete - This is a review of evidence so far. Further opportunities and an authorised review may still be needed.

Questions

foundation: Which part comes first?

middle: What helps us see the change?

higher: Which choice makes the story clearer, and why?

Drama access and safety

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 1 · Monday 22 February 2027 · P6

Safety

Clear bags and chairs from the acting area. Mark personal space by agreement; no touch, lifting, chasing, falls, climbing, weapons or thrown objects. Mime props. A still pose may be seated and lasts only a comfortable few seconds.

Emotional and sensory access

Agree an open-hand stop signal and a quiet return cue. Keep voices at talking level. Allow pass, private sharing and a calm pause. Do not use sudden noises, personal stories or forced eye contact.

Planned adaptations

Cognition And Learning: Show one story part at a time. Rehearse first, next and last. Use two choices and fade prompts.

Communication And Interaction: Offer point, sign, speech, drawing or a pupil-directed adult. Give thinking time. Repeat the pupil choice for confirmation.

Semh: Use invented roles. Agree audience and opt-out before rehearsal. Give each pupil a real choice without a public performance demand.

Sensory And Physical: Offer seated, silent or directing roles. Keep walking pace and safe personal space. Stop if a pose is uncomfortable.

Eal: Plan in any language. Show freeze, move and share with gestures. Accept labels, drawings or an oral response before a full sentence.

The award and evidence

Both pathways work at Explore. Retain actual participation, exploration, creation and sharing evidence for the award. These lessons do not certify completion. Optional next level work in GROW is additional.

A pause, a request for help or a new plan can show resilience. Pupils do not need to act out real distress or tell a personal story.

Optional next level stretch

Creative Arts · GROW · Spring 2 Week 1 · Monday 22 February 2027 · P6

Task

Compare two real items. Explain which gives clearer evidence of your choice and why. Identify one skill goal and plan how you will check it.

Evidence

Keep item references, your own comparison, the reason and a specific future check. Date new notes today.

Optional scope

This adds reflection that may support a later level review. It is not needed for this lesson's Explore success criteria and does not certify completion of the award.

Support

Pupil distinguishes actual contribution from a claim and gives a reasoned comparison based on available evidence.

Compare one real item with an honestly missing record. Keep the gap and set a new evidence opportunity; do not invent the absent item.
