Weekly outcome

Devise a short performance about overcoming change.

Today I can

I can help order four story beats.

I can contribute a performance choice.

I can record my choice and a next step.

Words for this lesson devise: Make a new performance together.

beat: One small part of a drama.

cue: A sign that tells a performer when to act.

adapt: Change a plan to fit a new need.

Working safely

Use a made-up story. Keep your own space. Stop on the open hand. You can sit, stay silent or direct. You may share with just the adult.

Supported

Use the supplied four-beat story.

Choose an accessible role.

Make one cue, pose or voice choice with help.

Rehearse the four beats.

Tell or show your choice for the arts log.

Independent

Devise four clear beats as a group.

Agree roles and safe cues.

Try a scene of 30 to 60 seconds twice.

Keep one tested feature for a reason.

Record your own part and a next step.

Aspire

Complete the same scene and log.

Test two ways to show the choice beat.

Ask which helps the audience see the response.

Use the feedback to explain your choice.

Model step 1

Show wide arms within your safe space. Say: Our first plan has wide moves.

Model step 2

Bring hands close. Say: The imagined space is smaller. Pause.

Model step 3

Ask: What could we try? Offer a small hand wave, then repeat it.

Model step 4

Hold a final small pose. Say: We changed the move. Our four beats show the new plan.

Now make your own

Choose your role. Try a short scene. Change one thing.

The adult model is an example. Your arts log must show your real choice.

A smaller show space

Four roles plan a show with wide arm moves. The imagined space becomes smaller. A planner asks the group for ideas. They rehearse small arm moves and finish together. A narrator names each change.

Which action lets the audience see the problem?

Which detail shows how the group responds to change?

A change told in silence

The group begin with wide poses. A silent palm cue marks a smaller space. One performer pauses and looks at the group. Each offers a small move. They choose one and repeat it together, then hold the final pose.

How does this group show a choice without speech?

How could we use a pause or repeated move in our own scene?
