Lesson

Review my drama and arts log

Year A · Explore · Theme Resilience & Change

Scheme outcome

Reflect on my drama skills; arts-log evidence.

Today I can

I can name one drama skill I used.

I can show my own work and choice.

I can mark a gap and a next step.

Prepare

For three or four pupils: books or arts logs, pencils and each pupil's real plans, trials and share notes.

A, B, C and D log headings; adult can read them aloud.

Space to keep each pupil's actual items together without mixing group and individual evidence.

No new public performance, outside visitor, device or photograph is needed.

If an item is missing, record pending, the item needed and the next action.

Cover route

This is the second-slot review and arts-log closing lesson. Use actual plans, trials and Monday share notes. Teach A Take part, B Explore, C Create and D Share; sort real items and record the pupil's own skill reflection. Missing work or feedback is pending with a specific next action. Do not invent a performance, audience or attendance, and do not declare the award complete.

Arrival 3 minutes

Say: Today is our review and arts-log closing lesson. Find yesterday's actual plan and share note if they exist. If you were away or did not share, we record that honestly. You do not need to act a missed performance or invent a watcher to fill a box.

Look for: Pupils access genuine records without pressure. Missing work is identified calmly and the purpose of the lesson is review.

Fallback: Read one real item aloud or use a witnessed note. If there is no earlier item, start a fresh review page dated today and mark the missing evidence pending.

Check and response: A review can be complete and honest even when some evidence is pending. A gap needs a next action, not invented work.

Starter 3 minutes

Say: Name cue, pose and voice. Ask the pupil which was part of their actual work or direction. A pupil may say not yet. If the record is unclear, ask for their own account and label it as pupil recollection rather than a witnessed event.

Look for: Pupils distinguish a skill actually used from a future goal and connect it to a real item where available.

Fallback: Offer two skill words and ask for a point. Adult reads the prior note and asks whether it is right.

Check and response: A cue helps a start, turn or stop; a pose is a brief still picture; voice can include pace and pause. Record direction as direction.

I do 6 minutes

Say: Model with clearly labelled teacher examples: "I gave the end cue; the real note shows my role" and "There was no feedback; I will ask a class member next time." Put the first under real work and the second under next step. Check: can I write that an audience clapped if no one recorded or remembers it happening?

Look for: Adult models evidence and gap handling without pretending to hold pupil evidence. Pupils reject an unsupported event claim.

Fallback: Show a real blank line and say not yet. Offer a choice: make it up or ask for a real next chance.

Check and response: No. Keep the honest gap and plan a real next action. A teacher example belongs to the teacher model, not the pupil's arts log.

We do 6 minutes

Say: Use one actual class item without naming a pupil, or a labelled teacher model. A is a part done; B is an example explored and own view; C is an idea and a real trial; D is a real share. Hinge: a plan says "share tomorrow" but there is no share note. Is D complete? If unsure, compare a plan with a witnessed share note and decide again.

Look for: Pupils recognise the four arts-log headings and distinguish a planned share from actual sharing. A single item may support more than one area if its real content does.

Fallback: Read one heading at a time and offer one real item or pending choice. Adult holds items while the pupil directs the sort.

Check and response: D is pending until the share really happens. A plan can support C, but it does not prove a share or audience. Do not add invented dates or feedback.

Create 14 minutes

Say: This slot is for reflection and closing the arts log. Work through A, B, C and D using each pupil's actual items. A: real part and help. B: real example, source and own notice or view. C: own idea, trial and chosen change. D: actual share, date, allowed audience and any real feedback. Label invented class examples honestly. Add a short skill review, choice and reason. For each gap write pending, the exact item needed and next action, such as ask an invited staff listener for a quiet share at the next agreed lesson. Do not manufacture a missed performance today in the record.

Look for: A genuine closing evidence list identifies available items and honest gaps across A to D. Pupil adds a specific skill reflection and next step. Staff record actual help and read scribed words back.

Fallback: Adult reads one real item at a time. Pupil points to keep or pending and confirms a short choice sentence. A sketch or gesture can be the reflection.

Check and response: Example only: A has my cue note. B has my view of the class example. C has my three-part plan. D is pending because I did not share. Next I will ask for a quiet share with invited staff. This is a model, not evidence to copy.

Review 5 minutes

Say: Read the evidence list and pupil words back. Ask which part they want to correct. Check an item location for each available entry and a next action for each gap. A completed list is not a decision that the award is finished. Reserve the final two minutes for calm storage.

Look for: Pupil confirms the record; real items are findable and gaps are visible. No automatic award completion claim is made.

Fallback: Adult checks one entry at a time and accepts yes, no or a correction by point or sign.

Check and response: An honest list may include several pending items. Keep the pupil's own confirmed view and do not replace it with polished adult wording.

Drama evidence and teaching checks

Exit 3 minutes

Say: Complete a final short reflection or witnessed note. Say what is ready to review and what remains pending. Store the real evidence together. Completing this lesson or checklist does not automatically complete the award.

Look for: A dated personal reflection, evidence locations and next action close the lesson. Award completion is not asserted.

Fallback: Pupil confirms one skill and one next step. Adult writes exactly what was confirmed and records support.

Check: Example only: I used a hand cue. I kept it because our end was clear. Next I will wait until each person is ready. Use the pupil's own actual reflection.

Evidence and review

Retain a dated note of each pupil's real role, choices and work or direction, actual audience when sharing occurred, real feedback if given, and support used. Keep an honest gap for anything not done. A photo or recording is optional and follows local consent procedures. A group product never replaces the individual contribution record.

Misconceptions

A gap means I must fill it with a model - Keep pending and add one real next action. A model is not pupil work.

A photo proves all my choices - Keep your own words and role note as well. A photo is optional.

A full list means I have finished the award - The full real portfolio still needs a separate review.

Questions

foundation: Which real item shows your part?

middle: Which skill did you use or direct, and why?

higher: What is still pending and what exact action will help?

Drama access and safety

Creative Arts · BUILD · Spring 2 Week 5 · Tuesday 23 March 2027 · P1

Safety

All props and story spaces are imagined. Keep movement within each person's own clear space; no den building, objects to climb on, stage combat, lifting, touching, blindfolds or breath holding. Hold a comfortable pose for about three seconds, breathe normally, then relax. Keep exits clear. Quiet sound stays at talking level or below. Record directed work as direction; do not claim the pupil physically or vocally performed an adult's action.

Emotional and sensory access

Agree the open-hand stop signal, clear personal spaces and quiet return route. Pupils may perform seated, speak, sign, use small silent moves or direct an adult. A private share with one member of the class or invited staff is valid. Offer a pass on the group audience. No personal disclosure, contact, running, sudden sound, darkness, costumes or forced facial expressions.

Planned adaptations

Cognition And Learning: Use one cue at a time. Rehearse the three or four story parts with a short model. Give two concrete choices, then fade the prompt. For reflection, sort one real item at a time under A, B, C or D; leave an honest gap if evidence is missing.

Communication And Interaction: Allow pointing, signing, a sketch, speech or an adult scribe. Give processing time. Read dictated words back and let the pupil correct them. Do not assess eye contact, accent or facial expression. Use I chose ... because ... and Next I will ... .

Semh: Keep all stories invented and low stakes. Let the pupil choose a role and amount of sharing. A pause or request for help can be a planned choice in the story. Agree a calm return cue. Review evidence without ranking pupils or comparing attendance.

Sensory And Physical: Offer seated hand poses and a silent directing role. Keep clear personal spaces. No pupil is moved into a pose. Offer a quiet private audience within the class or invited staff. An observation note can replace a photo or recording.

Eal: Plan in any language. Model first, next, last and change with gestures. Let pupils use their own language to explain a choice before adding a short English label. Check meaning before writing a confirmed arts-log note.

The award and evidence

Both pathways work at Explore. GROW retains an optional Bronze-stretch layer, labelled Optional next level stretch on pupil tasks. Retain only actual evidence. These lessons and a completed checklist do not automatically complete the award. Review the complete real portfolio and record any gaps with a next action.

Resilience can include pausing, asking for help, changing a plan and trying again. Do not ask pupils to recreate personal change, hide feelings or work through pain.
