Scheme outcome

Review the performance; complete arts log + Bronze evidence.

Today I can

I can use real evidence to review my skill.

I can check A, B, C and D and mark gaps honestly.

I can give my own view and one next action.

Words for this lesson

review: Look back at real work and choices.

evidence: Work or a clear note of what really happened.

reflection: Your own view of what you did and learned.

pending: Still to do or check.

Working safely

Use a made-up story. Keep your own space. Stop on the open hand. You can sit, stay silent or direct. You may share with just the adult.

Supported

Check one real item at a time with an adult.

Point to A, B, C or D, or pending.

Say or show one real skill choice.

Confirm your own view and a next action.

Independent

Check your real A, B, C and D evidence.

Review your actual role, skill and feedback.

Give your own view with a reason.

Mark gaps pending and list exact next actions.

Aspire

Complete the same honest evidence review.

Compare two actual trials or choices.

Explain your view of what helped the audience.

Optional next level: check real skill goals, practice, learning and the next action.

Model step 1

Show a labelled teacher plan to share. Say: This is a plan, not proof of an audience.

Model step 2

Show a real teacher role note. Say what the note actually supports.

Model step 3

Check A, B, C and D. Mark the missing share or feedback pending.

Model step 4

Add a next action and an own-view sentence. Keep optional skill evidence only where real.

Your own task

Review the scene. Keep real feedback. Find your own arts-log items.

Choose one skill to keep or practise next.

The adult model is an example. Your arts log must show your real choice.

A smaller show space with words

The group plan wide moves. The imagined space gets smaller. A planner asks for ideas. The group test small hand moves, choose one and end together. A narrator uses short lines to mark the change and the new plan.

What makes the change and response clear?

How could a short line or pause help our audience?

A smaller show space in silence

The group begin with wide hand poses. A point to the word Change marks a smaller space. Each offers a small move. They choose one and repeat it together, then hold a final pose. The intended meaning is explained after the share.

How does the group show a choice without speech?

Which feature would you keep in your own piece, and why?

Make your own choice

I notice ___.

I could use ___ in my own scene because ___.

These are invented class models. They are not pupil work.
