Learning outcome: Use atlases and maps to locate climate zones and hazards.

You may point, write, type, speak in private or direct a scribe. You may pass. Reading aloud is your choice.

Route Supported

1. Use the atlas page. An adult may read the index. Find C across the top, then 4 down the side. This is C4.

2. Find each of the five core places with the adult. Use the ready-cut labels and symbols. You choose each place.

3. Put the labels and marks on your own map in your book. Say or point to one grid box and one key item.

In your book

In your book, use a blank map. Label the Amazon Basin, the Mediterranean and the Arctic with their climate zones. Plot a circle for earthquake hazard in Japan and a triangle for volcano hazard in Indonesia. Add a key. Use the index and grid to check each place.

I found ____ in box ____. The key shows ____. This place has ____.

You may plan in any language. An adult may read or scribe your exact choice. Record the help used.

My check

I used the index and grid. I placed three climate labels and two hazard marks. I added a key. I checked one place with my partner.

Use the agreed quiet signal for a pause. Stay with the adult in the usual place. Rejoin with one map check. A neutral shape task is ready.
