Contracts & the law (basics).

Problem-solving in the workplace.

Learning and evidence

An invented employer prepares paper packs. Today the pair reads a fictional adult worker's contract extract and deals with a missing-materials problem. A contract sets terms for both sides. Real employment contracts can include written terms, spoken agreements and terms required by law. This classroom extract is incomplete and is not a document to sign. Use invented situations, not a personal employment story.

Find the role, hours and pay in a fictional contract extract and identify one point to check.

Explain that a contract is an agreement with terms and cannot simply remove legal rights.

Use pause, check, ask and report to choose a safe response to a fictional workplace problem, giving a reason.

Forty minutes

Minutes	Teaching
0–5	Agree a response mode and recall one useful idea.
5–13	Read the invented model; explain the key words; check understanding.
13–23	Work as reader and checker, swap roles, then answer the hinge privately.
23–35	Each learner gives their own response using a chosen route.
35–40	Review evidence, give one next step, keep the reply and save.

Access and help

Use voice, writing, pointing, a usual aid, typing or an exact scribe. Read back and correct. Plan in any language. Ask a trusted adult privately; pass, pause and return with support. No personal work or family story is needed.

Where this leads

Read workplace information, make a safe choice and explain the evidence for it. Staff confirm any link to the unit award.

Offer to the Communication portfolio. Spring 2 ends Thursday 25 March; there is no Friday lesson in Week 5.
