Who can help with change

Identify who helps me through change.

Use the made-up story in class. For real help, ask a trusted adult in private. You can pass, point or ask for help.

The story

A pupil has a new start to class. First they put their book on the table. Then they look at the first task. They are not sure what comes next.

In your book

Pick a role that could help the story pupil. Show what that adult could do. You can point, say, draw or use your usual aid. A scribe can write your words and read them back.

A model

The pupil could ask a teaching assistant to show the next step.

Story choice and private card

Words: role, help, blank, private

Start: In the story, ... could help by ... .

Model: In the story, a teacher could help by showing the steps.

Your next step

Keep your first try. Use one next step. Reply in the same colour, on the same page or usual mode. You can pass or watch, then come back with help.

Your private card

My circle is for you to keep. Use roles, not names. Any space can stay blank. Ask for help in private. Do not put your own card choices or real worries in class work.

States: chose with no step cues; chose with step cues; learning not seen this time. A step cue tells what to choose next. Log words, point, draw, aid or exact scribe/TA voice. The aim is to choose who and how. No speech test. An adult-picked answer is not the pupil's own choice.

No adult to choose? Give help in private. Do not press. Any card space can stay blank. If a pupil shares a real worry, pass it to the safeguarding lead. Use the school route. Listen and give calm support. Do not probe or promise to keep a secret. Keep real details out of this pack and shared work.

E: real work saved. R: only with Voice, Audience, one NS and a reply in the same colour, on the same page or usual mode. Offer to the Communication portfolio.
