Planned adaptations

Need	Plan
Read or sequence	Use one card and one short instruction.
Communicate	Allow a private point, sign, spoken answer or exact scribing.
Pause and return	Return-to-learning route for this lesson: after a pause, rejoin Supported with one source card and the first presentation point.
Access the drawing	Use the larger view or describe the marked features.

Catch-up embedded this lesson: revisit the difference between a feature and a meaning in Starter.

If behind

Keep one model clue, one shared check, the checkpoint, a book response and the exit. Shorten repeated practice.

P18 · Individual target opportunities

Use the learner’s actual agreed target.

Opportunity	Evidence	Actual support
Find a clue	Select a card detail.	_____
Explain	Link evidence to the answer.	_____
Check	Keep or revise one detail.	_____
Regulate	Use a pause or a private response.	_____

The teacher models one step. A second adult, if available, reads a card or records the exact response. With one adult, set out the card and return for the pupil’s reason.

Give time, point to a clue, ask a short question, then offer a frame or choice. Invite a response. The learner may pass.

Starter

Which part of your presentation could use a map?

Use a map to locate the example.

Starter

Which part needs a source account?

A claim about a practice or its meaning.

Starter

How can you support a point in a short presentation?

Use a map for a place and a source card to explain a practice or meaning.

Starter

What should you record after presenting?

Keep one question response and one reflection or improvement.

I do · 2

Which detail in the card can help with the question?

Card D describes Diwali lights and gatherings. The neutral locator marks examples in Country A and Country B.

I do · 2

What does this clue help us say?

A source label helps the listener check a detail. A place marker locates an example without making a claim about everyone there.

I do · 3

How could I explain the link?

Plan one point about place, one about celebration and one about meaning. Link each point to a visual or card.

I do · 3

How can I start my answer?

My point is ____. Card ____ supports it because ____. My next change is ____.

I do · 4

What should you record after presenting?

Keep one question response and one reflection or improvement.

I do · 4

What is one limit to keep in mind?

One account cannot show how all people in a country or community celebrate.
