Following Instructions and Routines

What I am learning

I can follow a set of instructions in order.

I can describe a workplace routine.

I can check my work against the instructions.

Read all the steps first. Work in order. Check each part against the instructions. If a step is not clear, stop and ask.

Following Instructions and Routines

The task steps

Read the whole task card. Ask about any step that is not clear.

Put a tray card in the centre of your page.

Place two cup cards above the tray card. Place a spoon card to the right.

Check: one tray, two cups and one spoon in the places shown. Correct one error if needed.

Following Instructions and Routines

Words and worked example

instruction: A step that tells you what to do.

routine: A set of jobs done in an agreed order.

order: What comes first, next and last.

check: Look at the work against the steps.

standard: What the finished work must be like.

ask: Get help when a step is not clear.

The task is a paper model of a service tray. I read to the end before I place a card. The standard is one tray, two cups above it and a spoon to the right. I count two cups and check the spoon. This is rehearsal, not food work.
