

Knowledge Organiser (GROW W1): Migration on a Timeline

Humanities Aut 1 · 2026–27 · Workbook outcome: Place migration events on a timeline (chronology).

Key Word	Definition
Watch me do it:	Watch me do it: I take the Windrush card. The date printed on it is 1948. I find 1948 on the line and place the card there. Then I take the 2004 card. That is far to the right. So the Windrush card comes before it. I read the date first. Then I place the card. Then I say before or after.
date	The diagram above has three boxes: date, then before or after, then caused? The first two boxes come straight from the card. The last box is the trap. A date can never fill it on its own.
before or after	The diagram above has three boxes: date, then before or after, then caused? The first two boxes come straight from the card. The last box is the trap. A date can never fill it on its own.
caused?	The diagram above has three boxes: date, then before or after, then caused? The first two boxes come straight from the card. The last box is the trap. A date can never fill it on its own.
Fixing it together:	Fixing it together: change because of to after. "The 1972 arrivals happened after the 1962 Act." Now the sentence says only what the dates can prove. The word after is the safe word for a timeline.

Key Facts

- A timeline is a line that shows events in the order they happened. Earlier is on the left. Later is on the right.
- A date tells you when. Two dates tell you which came first. That is all chronology needs.

Arrival Task

What we already know about time and order

1) A timeline is a line that shows events in the order they happened. Earlier is on the left. Later is on the right.

2) A date tells you when. Two dates tell you which came first. That is all chronology needs.

Why does the order matter?

Here are two answers about the same two cards. Answer A: “Both cards are about people coming to Britain.” Answer B: “Here the Windrush card is 1948 and the EU card is 2004, so the Windrush arrival came first, by more than fifty years.”

Try it in your head: think of two things that happened to this class this term. Which came first? How do you know? The thing you used to decide is your evidence for the order.

We Do 1: Order three cards together

Card A: 1972 · families expelled from Uganda arrive in Britain after being expelled from Uganda.

Card B: 1948 · the Windrush docks at Tilbury with passengers from the Caribbean.

Card C: 1962 · the 1962 Act on Commonwealth immigration limits who can come to live in Britain.

We Do 2: Rank the events together

We build one ranking on the board first. Nobody writes yet. Everyone puts their top event on a whiteboard. Then we show them all at once. Then we agree what a good reason looks like. Ranking is different from ordering. Ordering uses the dates. Ranking uses a judgement, and a judgement needs a reason you can say out loud. Write the event, not a describing word.

Your route

Six cards in order. For each one, write the date, the event, and whether it came before or after the Windrush arrival. Use a separate row for each event so the parts stay in order.

The model

Watch me do it: I take the Windrush card. The date printed on it is 1948. I find 1948 on the line and place the card there. Then I take the 2004 card. That is far to the right. So the Windrush card comes before it. I read the date first. Then I place the card. Then I say before or after.

Fixing it together: change because of to after. "The 1972 arrivals happened after the 1962 Act." Now the sentence says only what the dates can prove. The word after is the safe word for a timeline.

Check yourself

- Check yourself: are your events in order from earliest to latest?
- Check yourself: does every row have a date you can point to on a card?
- Check yourself: did you use before or after, not because, in the order column?

Migration on a Timeline

SoW: 'GROW Weekly - Autumn'!C46 — "Place migration events on a timeline (chronology)."

Learning objective: I can place dated migration events in chronological order and say what came before and after without claiming a cause.

No personal or family history is required. Every task can be completed with the supplied event cards and their printed dates.

The timeline row

Date → event → before or after the Windrush arrival. The safe words are before and after.

The first row is done for you, from the timeline we built together. It is in italics so you know it is not yours. Fill in as many of the rows below it as you can, earliest first.

Independent Work – Standard

Six cards in order, each with date, event and before-or-after written.

Six cards in order. For each one, write the date, the event, and whether it came before or after the Windrush arrival. Use a separate row for each event so the parts stay in order.

Date	Event	Before or after 1948?
1956	bus workers are recruited in Barbados	after, by eight years

Choose a route

1. I chose my own route.
2. My reasons are in my own words.
3. Any adult help is written on the record.

5 · Learner confirmation

I confirm this is my own work.

Exit Ticket – Standard

1) Read one row to a partner or to an adult. The listener says back the date and the safe word they heard, in their own words.

2) Did the listener hear because where you meant after? Then change that one word. That change is your influence. It belongs to you, not to them.

3) Next week you will read a real source about one of these events, and start to fill the dashed box. Keep your timeline. It will help you then.
